

Caveat: These communications are informative teaching instructions for those who seek to increase their understanding of themselves and the magnitude of the future lying before us all. These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Although it has been checked for obvious errors, it has not been finally edited.

Copyright © 2012 Clyde Trepanier

February 1, 1962

Master Teacher: Peace, peace be with you, my beloved children.

I come to you tonight, in your period of silence, to share with you my blessings and my love. My love for you, my children, is deep. I would that I could share with you the great bliss that comes from this love. I would that I could put into words the feeling, the satisfaction that comes with this great knowing of love. You see, beloved ones, I see you not as one who is immersed in sin, nor one who is lacking in knowledge, in wisdom and in understanding but, I see you as a beautiful rosebud, about to blossom forth in all its glory and beauty. I know not how to describe these things adequately so that you would understand or know, for these things must be experienced to realize the greatness of the impact upon your soul.

I say to you, my children, be grateful that you have chosen these times in which to express in this dimension, for great opportunities await you. But, as I have said to you many times, and perhaps shall say many times more. "Love ye one another." Allow to express through you this great universal love power, which, if cultivated, will grow and grow and grow, and you shall experience bliss beyond your greatest expectations. Allow yourself to be baptized in this great sea of cosmic consciousness. This was truly the symbology of the one whom you call John the Baptist, when he baptized in the water. The water being symbolic of the great sea of consciousness of which I spoke. This great Being again walks your earth today and will play a great part in establishing the kingdom of brotherly love, of justice and of peace on planet Earth.

For those of you who sincerely seek the truth, it is most important that your eye become single and that you see only that which is good in man, to recognize and cultivate that which will bring peace, love and understanding to Earth. Many of you, throughout planet Earth, who have been faithful to your cause and to your creator, shall receive the light one day, as have many others. These are recorded in your religious histories, and this experience shall come to many, when suddenly they shall find great wisdom and understanding has unfolded before them.

Beloved children, let no fear, no resentment nor hate enter your hearts, but look always to that which is good, which is righteous, which is just. For if this be done, your path shall become smooth, the fields will become more beautiful and life itself becomes much more abundant. And a peace begins to settle around your being, and you begin to become one with all creation, and the true love of creation begins to dawn in your heart.

Peace, Peace, Peace. ☸