Teacher: Greetings, my brothers. I greet you with the love, light and understanding of the Infinite One. I have come as an emissary of the Infinite One.

As you progress in your understanding, you have much in store for you. Give yourself in love and in understanding. It is necessary for you, each of you, to develop a clear understanding of yourself and of your fellow man, for only through understanding will you be able to accomplish your mission.

Be ye perfect. How shall we become perfect? Perfection is not an easy thing to accomplish, but we must aspire to this perfection at all times. Self-discipline is very necessary, very necessary. The desires of the physical must not be allowed to master us. Emotions must be controlled. How can we establish love and understanding among us if these things are not mastered?

You have been told many times to establish love, harmony and understanding between you. Yet, you desire to make great accomplishments, to demonstrate your powers that are within you. But I say unto you, beloved ones, that these things cannot be established, cannot be demonstrated without first establishing the love and understanding among you, for without this you have no power. This is the power. In love and understanding all things are possible, without it you accomplish nothing. It is the lack of this that has brought about the conditions that exist on your planet today.

How can you establish this among you? It can be established only through your own efforts, through becoming masters of yourselves. The rules you should know well. They have been given you long ago: "Turn the other cheek, go the extra mile, give, love. See only good in all you come in contact with. Refuse to see anything but the good." You have been taught fear, and you fear the results if you turn the other cheek, or go the extra mile. There is nothing to fear, my friends, nothing to fear.

Let that love emanate from you so strongly that all negativity shall melt into nothingness before you. "He who lives by the sword, shall die by the sword." I quote from your Scriptures. These things are not new to the people of earth. Your Great Teacher gave you all the rules. They are all there, you need only apply them. Why, oh why, make it difficult?

You would be amazed at what a few of you, a very few of you, could accomplish if only you could establish between you complete love and understanding. Your accomplishments would amaze you. Each of you have within you the ability to establish this. You need only to put forth the effort, to make the decision and to apply the discipline necessary. We are waiting for such a group. Do I make myself clear?

There is a great work to be done in this great city of yours. You can be the Light Bearers in this area if you choose to be. The harvest is ready. You have fertile soil in which to work. There are many people who are ready to be brought into Truth, who are ready for a new understanding. They are waiting for their teachers.

Questioner: Are there enough of us here for such a group?

Teacher: Any number is enough to start, my daughter, any number. You need only to establish that oneness between you and I assure you, things will happen once this power is released. Nothing shall stand against it. Complete dedication to the service. Know within yourself that you are completely dedicated to the service of your Creator. This shall help you in establishing more love within you. Eliminate all self, holding only that desire to serve, for through your service administered sincerely and selflessly, shall you gain new knowledge, new understanding and new growth. Come unto me all ye who are burdened, who are heavy-laden and I shall give you peace, love and understanding.

Odina, beloved ones. ☸
