Anthon: Now I should like to take a few moments to explain to thee as best I can some of the questions which you were discussing. Man is much more complex than the physical-chemical being as you know him. On through to the ultimate, even your physical-chemical makeup cannot yet be comprehended by your civilization as to its functions and what motivates it. Your most learned physicians do not understand about this and as to the mental they have practically no understanding. They have not yet scratched the surface.

Each part of man is important down to the tiniest cell of your physical body. Each one is playing its special function, each one depending on the other, each one making up a great part of the whole. Not one cell is more important than the other, each has its place in the function and so it is with man.

In the Universe each has his function. Each is a cell in that great body that you call God. Each functioning in his or her own way but each a part of the whole. There is a great oneness here that is not yet seen or realized in your civilization and so it is with each civilization. Each planet, each star, and in space itself, each has its function and each can be broken down into many parts.

It is so vast, so far reaching, that I must state it is beyond my comprehension. I realize that my place on the ladder of evolution is not very high and I cannot convey to you that which I myself do not understand. I have spoken with beings whom I feel are possessors of great power, great wisdom, and great love, greater than I can comprehend, yet they have stated that they have also contacted beings which are beyond their comprehension and so it goes.

How far it reaches, I know not yet but this I know, if I seek if I seek sincerely in love, in truth, and in understanding, that eventually, I will know.

It may seem that I have wandered far from your questions but I only make these statements to try to make clear to you the mansions that are in your Father's House. The mansion that you are now in is also a schoolroom and when you have mastered this grade in your school of evolution, you will go on to newer and greater things.

Now I know there has been many questions in your minds about immortality and what man's functions are beyond this physical life, what happens between incarnations. This is also a complex thing to attempt to explain to those of you who are still fighting the battle of self, those of you who measure time as time is conceived of here on planet Earth. But remember time as such is eternal and in other realms of life what would be a thousand years here would be as a moment there.

The Masters or Spirits of Creation took many things into consideration after the fall of man in helping him to gain back his rightful place in creation. They knew that he must learn and he could only learn through experience but they also knew that many of these experiences would be very difficult and man would suffer much through these experiences. Therefore, he was given time between, as his soul would choose to recuperate, to rest, to enjoy depending upon his own consciousness and will.

Therefore he was allowed to make a separation, perhaps you could call it a separation of consciousness, during the time between incarnations, when the soul could rest and recuperate much as you do in your physical life here. There are times when you need recreation, a vacation from the turmoil, the strain, and you go somewhere and enjoy yourself and relax.

The ego, or the memory, also known as an astral shell, stays within the confines of the earth while the inner soul, the pure soul, goes on what you might term a vacation, in a place especially provided for this. What takes place here I believe I can dispense with as it has already been described to you.

Now the shell or the ego possesses the memory of all the earth lives and in this stage of development only the more recent ones are foremost in mind or in the memory of this ego. That is why when the ego is contacted through, what is known to you as mediumship, there is reference made to things that have happened in the past lives of these persons, also, I should add here that depending on the individual, it may vary in time as to when the separation takes place. Often, between the time of passing from the physical into the astral realm, the soul consciousness has glimpses into the future and things of this type which is also registered at that time in this memory pattern of the ego.

This is why occasionally, fairly accurate predictions can be made by these egos. Now it is also possible for the ego, or the soul I should say, to be held back from this transition for a time by the mourning or clinging of those who are left behind. At times these contacts are made through mediums. This is why it is not fair to those who have gone on to attempt to hold them back. It is even possible to call them back but it is not good for them. Neither is it good for you.

It is difficult to clarify these things to your satisfaction yet I know that the day will come when it will all be very clear to you. But this is not of any great importance to any of you in this stage of development. The important thing to you now is the now, to live the Truth, to follow the teachings of the way-shower. He has pointed the way clearly and those who follow in his footsteps have nothing to fear. All things will be revealed to them as they are ready to comprehend them. His path is not an easy one.

It is narrow, it is stony, the pitfalls are many. There is no deviating to the right or left once your hand is put to the plow. Keep your eye on the furrow ahead of you, look not back, for he who looks back, falters. Learn to understand His love as he demonstrated it to you. This is man's salvation this is man's way to the kingdom and this is the only way.

There is a short path and there is a long path. Everyone must trod the path. The short path is much harder than the long path but it is much harder. So think well before you choose your path. Some have chosen the shorter path by plunging into the occult without giving due consideration. But let me warn you, my friends, it is a hard path, few make it. It is a narrow path but the rewards are great and they come much sooner, but the sacrifices are also great.

Beloved ones, have I been of any assistance in helping you to understand?

Questioner: Yes, but I have one question. Does everyone who makes the transition from this earthly life to the astral realm have this choice of going to this place of rest or just the ones at a certain stage of development.

Anthony: Some are taken sooner than others. But each must be taken by a Master, no one could find the way themselves. There are those of very low consciousness who are very low on the ladder of evolution, so often it is quite sometime after the transition before the separation can be made with these. But here again we get into some very complex problems which are handled by great and wise Masters who have great understanding of how these things can best be handled. This would not be easy to clarify in your state of consciousness but these things will be clarified. You will be able to understand when the proper time comes. In the meantime this is not a problem that will affect you in any way in your sojourn.

Your civilization is now approaching the end of a great cycle one, that has not occurred in many, many thousands of years. There have been many civilizations that have come and gone. Your civilization today is a revival of that known today as Atlantis. This is a second chance for the Atlanteans and the Lemurians to bring a great civilization into being again. As a civilization they are failing. Those who are left will go on into a New Age upon your planet. They will develop new civilization which will be a greater civilization than has ever developed before upon your planet.

As is stated in your prophecies, there will be a thousand years of peace where men shall live in love and understanding and shall gain great knowledge of the occult wisdom and power. Then I believe it is stated that Lucifer will be loosed which means that there will be those in that civilization, but they will be few, who will again use their powers for selfish gains. They will have learned these powers intellectually but they will not have gained the spiritual knowledge to properly use these powers. But this will be short lived and these will eliminate themselves very rapidly, and again peace will reign and a great civilization will evolve upon planet Earth as has evolved on many other planets in the Father's Mansions.

Now beloved friends, I must leave you, your hour is late. We shall come together again soon and we will have something for you. May the peace, the love and the understanding of the Great Brotherhood of Masters be invoked on each of you now and forever more.

Peace be with you beloved, peace, peace, peace. ☸
