Samuel: Greetings to thee, my beloved friends, I am Samuel:

One of your great Hebrew Psalmists cried, "What is man, that thou art mindful of him and the son of man that thou visitest him?" Now time was not when man was not. If life of man had a time of beginning then it would have a time of ending. The thoughts of God cannot be circumscribed. The finite can never comprehend the infinite. This is not possible. The man, spirit man, is infinite, has always been and always will be.

Now Fiat gave to man, to spirit man, a body of soul that he might function on the plane of soul and Fiat gave to man a body of the flesh that he might function on the plane of things made manifest. Now why did Fiat give to man a body that he might function on the plane of soul and why did Fiat give to man a body that he might function on the plane of things made manifest?

Man is but a thought of God, spirit man. Or perhaps better described as a seed of God. Now, as you know, the seed of every plant contains every attribute of that especial plant when manifest and so spirit man, being a seed of God, contains deep within him the attributes of every part of God. But a seed to unfold and manifest its full potential must be cast into the soil that it may be nourished and grow and come forth and unfold in its fullest as does the bud unfold into the flower.

So God cast forth His seed of man and in order that he might unfold and grow, he was given the body of soul so that he might function on the plane of soul. There he must tarry for many ages to learn the lessons that he must learn. The plane of soul is but the plane of spirit vibrating at a lower rhythm and as time passed the vibration and the rhythm came lower yet and man was given a body of flesh to function on the plane of things made manifest.

Now a soldier does not know his strength without a foe to meet and so the carnal forces began to grow and develop on the plane of manifest. The carnal desires and sensations became the foe of man that he must fight and conquer. Thought can only be strengthened by being used in combat with the foe.

Man was given lordship of the plane of soul and of the things of the plane of things made manifest. He was lord of all things on these planes of protoplast, of plant, of beast. But man gave up his estate, his heritage to satisfy the lower self, the carnal man, but man will be redeemed. The cherubim and seraphim that rule the stations of the sun, and the spirits of God that rule the suns are ever present to redeem and save and the shall lead man on to victory on the plane of things made manifest.

When man has conquered the carnal self and freed himself from carnal ways, the fleshly body will pass and be no more and he shall stand on the plane of soul. Here again he shall meet many foes and he must conquer each, one by one and when he has conquered the foes upon the plane of soul, he shall stand redeemed. The body of the soul will have served its purpose well and it will pass and be no more and man shall stand perfected in the blessedness of the Holy Breath and be at one with God.

May the blessings of all the Great Ones that rule the universe, that rule the suns and the stations of the suns, invoke their divine blessings upon each of you here this night. May each of you go blest and go with a new feeling of love and oneness in your hearts.

Go in peace, my friends, go in peace. Peace be with you. ☸
