Zalhem: I greet you, my beloved children in Pure Love. I am Zalhem.

I should like to spend a few moments tonight talking to you about this pure Love. I hardly know how to begin to describe this to you so that you would understand, for it is somewhat like trying to conceive of God with the finite mind. Love is infinite and it is difficult if not impossible, in its fullness, to be felt and understood by the finite mind. Yet Love is such an important subject that we cannot ignore speaking of it. We can only try to relate it as it occurs in the finite mind.

There are many degrees of Love. A mother's love for her infant is a degree of this love, yet it does not come close to pure Love. Love lurks in the hearts of all mankind, it lurks there to be developed and used, and how it is developed and how it is used depends upon each individual.

There are various directions in which it can be developed. It is sad that so many Earth people direct this force towards materialism. They develop a great love for the carnal things of life, neglecting all else. This can be very dangerous, very hazardous to the soul growth of any individual.

Your great Master, Jesus the Christ, often spoke of Love and the importance of directing and using it in the right way. He instructed His pupils, His followers, over and over to love one another. Now, this encompasses much more than appears on the surface. To some this means expressing an emotional feeling to others whom they may encounter, but my friends, it goes much deeper than this. For if one is to truly love his fellow man, he will truly love all mankind regardless of what appears on the surface. He will do everything in his power to help and to do the things that will bring about a better life and better conditions for his fellow man. He will think in terms of what is best for his fellow man in general and what he can do to improve him.

He will do nothing to harm or to bring hardship upon another. He will not condemn his brother man. And though his brother man may treat him badly, may do wrong unto him, he will return nothing but good. He will come to realize that all life is one and that every creature in Creation has its part to play, and with the cooperation of man will perform its part in the right way.

Man will learn that all forms of life respond to this Love and that the only solution to any problem is to face it with Love. This will be better understood in the New Age that you are entering. The phrases, "the lion shall lie down with the lamb," and "the beast of the wild shall be led by a child," will be realities when man begins to understand, even to a small degree, the meaning and the feeling of True Love.

All Creation responds to this vibration, yes, even your Earth itself will respond. The wind and the waves will respond to this vibration. They also respond to the opposite vibration. Like breeds like. It is time for Earth man to realize that Nature will respond accordingly to the vibration to which she is exposed. Man does have the power to control the winds and the seas, to walk upon the water, and to calm the savage beast. That power is Love.

The Great Master, Jesus the Christ, came to your planet to demonstrate this power. He demonstrated it in all of its aspects, yet few had the ears to hear or the eyes to see. Thus, your planet finds itself in the situation it is in today.

Love could have changed all this. All of the prophecies that had been given in the past could have been changed, would have never come true if Earth people had only learned the power of Love. And, as I have said, even if it had only been understood and used to a small degree the change would have been massive.

Oh, that we could make Earth man see and understand this. Your religious organizations have shunned this subject, passing it over. They have talked about and taught many things, but few have taught the importance of these few words that this Great Master gave to you, "Love ye one another as I have loved you." They did not realize how He had loved them or what He had sacrificed for them. They soon forgot His words, and the corrupt priesthood's used them for their own benefit and kept from the people His true teachings.

We know that this is a great, vast subject and difficult for Earth men to conceive. It is impossible for them to conceive in its fullness, but if they were to just use it rightly and try and try again, they would be amazed at the results when Love is directed in the right directions. Never will it bring good when it is directed for selfish purposes. It can only bring grief and unhappiness.

I think I need say no more. May each of you, as you go forth, grow in understanding of this Love and use it daily in your life. May you find, as I know you will, how great the results can be.

Go in Peace, my beloved ones, go in Peace. My Peace I give unto you. ♣
