Oxal: Greetings in the Light, my friends. I am Oxal.

We see that your numbers are few tonight but we thought that we would tune in and spend a few moments in talking to you.

Questioner: Thank you as we feel very much alone down here.

Oxal: You are never alone. You never walk alone.

As we observe planet Earth at this time, it reminds us of a boiling pot which is about to boil over. There is great turmoil going on among your people at this time. It has increased quite noticeably in the past few months and is growing. You perhaps do not notice it so much in your country as in other parts of the world. Yet the turmoil in your country is increasing day-by-day. This is not a happy prospect yet it is bound to come, due to the great unrest among your people.

Materialism has reached a height where it is bringing about these conditions. This turmoil is evident in all phases and groups of your people, even unto your government, and your government people. They are in great turmoil and confusion. They know not where to turn, due to different viewpoints. You have conflict which is due to self-interests who are thinking in terms of their own welfare, their own power. They think only in terms of monetary gains or loss. They cannot come together with an attitude of what is best for all concerned and thus you have turmoil and conflict.

This is the great weakness of planet Earth. They cannot seem to realize that all men should be equal. They speak much of this but they do not practice it. They think only in terms of what is best for themselves or their group.

The professions have become corrupt as they think also in these terms. The profession of the law, they who have sworn to uphold the law and to aid all men in receiving justice, have corrupted themselves in attempts to line their own pockets with gold. They have forgotten their oath, forgotten the people that they were supposed to protect.

Your medical profession is in the same position. They have allowed themselves to become corrupt. They bear false witness against their fellow man and they also think in terms of gold. Neither of these professions will allow those who would like to perform their duties in an upright manner, to do so. This same thing follows through in all of your professions and among your leaders of both the government and the industrial world. So how can a civilization stand under such conditions?

These same reasons will prevent ever having a satisfactory settlement in your Middle East situation. As long as people think as they do, how can you reach an agreement? Any agreement would only be temporary for one or the other is being taken advantage of. And when people think they have been misused, hatred is bound to grow in their hearts and sooner or later you will again have turmoil and it will turn into a holocaust.

Now, my friends, I do not say these things to frighten you but only to bring you to the realization that when you see these things happening, know that your salvation is drawing near. For those who walk in the Light it means your salvation is drawing nigh.

Your people have been given these signs and warnings, they have known them and read them for generations, yet they heed them not. We often wonder why. It seems that the more evident and clear that they appear the more your people try to ignore them and draw farther and farther from the truth.

Questioner: Yet those who try to stay in the Light, who try to be prepared, find so many changes that it is difficult for them to keep their perspective.

Oxal: Each one is an individual and each one must prepare his own path. You were given the rules in the Ten Commandments and in the Sermon on the Mount. Do you follow these rules? Do you have faith in your Creator? Those who walk in the Light or who pretend to walk in the Light—and there are many of these—are being given tests at this time to prove their worth. Many are failing.

Questioner: We have failed.

Oxal: I did not say that you had failed.

Many who claim to walk in the Light are not considering their fellow man. They are not meeting the tests. Many of them are being given opportunities to decide where their great interests lie, what is the most important in their life.

Questioner: With our group changing and with some of the members now in different places, how can we continue to serve and to have a light center?

Oxal: Each has his or her opportunity and each shall serve as he or she sees fit. How they take advantage of the opportunities depends upon them. Often what you think to be serving may not be serving as you should be. I am not saying that you have failed, I am saying that each will have his opportunity.

Often we do not see what is best, often changes come about that will lead you into something where your opportunity to serve is greater. There is no one location no one spot where one must always be and if one takes advantage of the opportunity to serve, the opportunities will come to him. Because as he fulfills his obligations he will be meted out more and greater opportunities.

We see workers who claim to be light workers taking advantage in monetary or other ways that will give them gain in some way. This is not fulfilling your obligations to your fellow man. We see them pass by opportunities many times because it might inconvenience them somewhat in some way, either monetarily or otherwise.

Questioner: How can we increase or improve our service?

Oxal: Just meet the opportunities that present themselves. You do not have to go out and shout from the rooftops. Serve those whom you see that need and want to be served and I mean by service, to serve in any way that you can. So many light workers feel that the only way they can serve is by spreading knowledge or passing on knowledge or becoming a teacher. But there are many other ways to serve your fellow man. Each individual case might be different and you have to see and take advantage of the opportunities as they come.

Questioner: When we first came here you said that there was a need for this kind of information and knowledge in this area, so we have endeavored to share this here.

Oxal: You cannot share it with those who do not want it. There are those who come seeking knowledge for their own advantage, to inflate their own egos, to give them something that they can pass on to others, that will give them prestige among others, make them seem wise and knowledgeable. But these are not sincere seekers. There are those who jump hither and yon, trying to gather all of the knowledge from various points. They are operating strictly upon an intellectual level and their teachings will never be deep.

Questioner: Some seem to radiate a type of love which attracts people to them. Is this a personal love?

Oxal: There are many, many upon your planet who have personalities that attract people to them. They always have a smile on their face. They have personalities that are attractive, they know how to draw people to them. They know how to have people look up to them as a wise one. Beware of these. The wise teacher does not seek pupils, does not sell his wares. His pupils come seeking. He does not brag about his experiences, he does not share them except with those who are sincere, who will understand and who will be helped by their sharing.

It is not wise to become concerned because you do not have a great following, because people do not beat a path to your door. To he who has something to give, the sincere and wise ones will seek him out and often he will be sought out by the others of whom we have spoken. But a wise teacher quickly recognizes these and is very careful in his sharing with them. For these people can and will—if you promiscuously give out to them—dissipate your own spiritual strength, for they are parasites, they are takers, they are not givers. They will only take from you, they will not, return anything to you. So one must learn to be wise in these ways.

In your seeking and learning of Truth, above all, pray for wisdom, for knowledge without wisdom can be very detrimental and this is the situation that is so prevalent upon planet Earth today. Great intellectual knowledge but Very, very little wisdom to accompany it. If you have eyes to see this should be very clear to you.

Now, my friends, I hope that I have not bored you. I hope that I have not brought any fear into your hearts.

Questioner: Oh no, you have not, and we appreciate your coming as we do feel alone and in need of help and strength.

Oxal: All of those who are true carriers of the Light, a great deal of the time, feel very lonely, for their supporters usually are few as most are merely seeking to take and not to give.

I leave you by extending to you the love, the Light and the understanding of my people.

May each of you grow in wisdom as you approach and pass through the coming times.

I am Oxal. ✨
