Yaum: Good evening to you my friends. I am Yaum.

Once more it is my pleasure to come among you and to share with you my understanding.

My friends, we have observed your people very closely and when I say us, I am speaking of many, many beings from many places, both upon your planet and from other planets, from other realms in what you call space. Your peoples are being observed very closely by all realms of life. There is a great interest taken in the evolution of Earth man and in the events that are now taking place and are to take place upon your planet.

It is interesting to see from a point I suppose you would say, outside of your realm, to observe people's reactions and actions as they go about their daily life attempting to grow in understanding, to reach a higher level of what you might call evolution. But, you see my friends, they miss their opportunity so often through their lack of understanding of universal laws.

Man of Earth has been told down through his civilizations, about what you call the Golden Rule, has had many laws given to him to follow, yet man knowing these things, seems to completely ignore what he knows to be true.

Yet, sometimes we wonder if Man really believes these things to be true. Man talks a great deal about understanding his fellow being. He talks a great deal about the fact that man must learn to live together. That the Earth, due to modern science, is becoming smaller and smaller, that he must learn to live in peace if he is to survive at all. Yet, he does the very opposite. His actions do not correspond with his words.

So you see, it becomes quite amusing as you observe these things from the outside. You wonder if man is not using a lot of words that to him mean nothing at all. And we also observe students of truth and people who feel that they are righteous, shall we say, who feel that they are living a righteous life,

I believe that is the word that is used so much by your people, yet these people will have very little tolerance for their fellow man, if he does not agree with their thinking or if he does not do just what the other person thinks is the right thing to do. They are very quick to criticize, to condemn, to judge this person. Is this not true, my friends? Do you not find this as you look around yourself?

Earth man must come into a realization that the only way he is going to serve and to save his civilization is to grow within himself, to build within himself a consciousness of love, of understanding; to be able to tolerate his fellow man and realize that each man and each woman expresses according to their understanding.

You see, if we could grow within ourselves so that we demonstrate in our lives these things, we would become such a shining example of life that those whom we meet and associate with, would want to have what we have. Then their lives would also change, for the desire within them would burn so brightly that they would begin to change their own lives so that they might experience what we are experiencing. We can do a great deal of talking, but unless we bring those things into being, in our own life, they have availed us little.

Now, my friends, I realize I am not telling you anything that you do not already know, but sometimes it is good for us to do a little investigating, so to speak, into our own lives, and see just how much we are living that which we talk about. I know in my own life, I find that I must do this quite often, to remind myself to be ever aware of what is going on within me. For that is the most important thing for each of us, because we are not going to improve the world in which we live, unless we first improve our own life.

Now, I think I have carried on here about long enough. I'm told that there is another here who would like to say a few words for the benefit of the guest here tonight. So, my friends, I shall leave you now. It has been my pleasure and my joy to be with all of you tonight, and I wish to extend to this household my gratitude for being permitted to be your guest.

I wish to extend to each of you my love my blessings and my understanding. Goodnight to you, my friends, goodnight to you. ☸
