Oxal: Greetings in the Light, my friends, I as Oxal. I come to you in the Love, Light and Understanding of the Creative Spirit.

Great things portend upon your planet. Great things await the awakening of earth people, things that are beyond the conception of your masses. It is your duty as emissaries of Light to help bring about the preparation of earth people for their awakening, and for what lies ahead of them.

You have all been aware of the stepped-up process that is going on upon your planet. People of renown are beginning to come forward and speak their minds, state their beliefs. This, my friends, will become more and more prevalent as time goes forward, or rather as you move forward through time. Soon other events shall take place in your skies that will also stir the interest and the awakening of earth people.

The process is moving more rapidly. Our influences are becoming more felt by the people of your planet. This awakening must take place, for there are many of your people who must be awakened. The reconstruction and the establishing of the New Age upon this planet cannot be accomplished by a handful of people, it shall require many. Now I am not inferring that all will follow the path, for many shall falter. Many shall fall by the wayside, but the chosen ones, by and large, shall follow through.

There are across the surface of your planet many advanced ones who will lead the flock. These have been in the state of preparation for a long time. And many of these have come to this planet for this specific purpose. I shall not attempt to tell you who any of these are, but by their fruits shall ye know them.

A word of caution here, beloved ones. The forces of darkness are also very active. Their attempts to thwart the progress of your planet, their influences are being exerted. They are being thrown at all of you. So be aware of these, for also by their fruits shall ye know them. Awareness is very necessary. These forces exist among you and about you, but by their fruits, ye shall know them.

Keep your consciousness high, your purpose at all times established, the Light about you. Self-development and understanding is necessary and important at this time. All of you have learned much through your searching, but none of you, beloved friends, are putting enough of what you know into practice. We have stated in our talks many times that Truth avails you little unless you use it, unless you carry it into your daily life.

You see there is a great deal of difference between believing a Truth and knowing it. In order to know a Truth, you must practice it, bring it into your life and experience; then you know. For again, by its fruits, shall ye know it. You see, so often you speak of Truth, you know the Truth, you know a certain law, let us say, but it does not work for you in its daily application. If you find this to be the case, would it not be well to stop and analyze carefully your practice of this particular law or Truth, and see if you are applying it in its totality. You see, a law, in order to bring complete results, must be carried out to the letter of the law. There, my friends, so often you fail. For you only carry it out half believing. Do I make myself clear?

Questioner: Acknowledgment.

Oxal: So let us in our everyday life put these laws into practice in their entirety, knowing full well, with our whole being of knowing, that the results will be as they should be.

For example, the law of giving and receiving. If you give only halfheartedly, how could you expect to receive more than in the proportion to which you have given. This is an important thought, beloved friends. That is why I bring it to you for your consideration. For I know many of you wonder at times why your accomplishments are not as you feel they should be, and in my opinion, results are directly in proportion to the application. That is only as it can be.

And now, beloved friends, I leave you by extending to you the Love, and Light of my people. My Love and Blessings ❀
