

Caveat: These communications are informative teaching instructions for those who seek to increase their understanding of themselves and the magnitude of the future lying before us all. These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Although it has been checked for obvious errors, it has not been finally edited.

Oxal: Greetings in the light, My friends, I am Oxal.

Our contact tonight was more successful than upon the last occasion. Our last attempt to contact you here at Center R was spoiled by interference. So tonight, it is again my pleasure to have the opportunity to again address you there on Shan.

There is, my friends, so much preparation yet needed by people of your planet, to prepare them to receive the knowledge that is going to be conveyed to them in the very near future. Earth man is going to stand upon other planets much sooner than he thinks. Today your world governments are preparing vehicles that will travel both to the moon and to other nearby planets. The information that will be brought back by the first visitors from earth is going to be a great shock to the masses.

Change is coming about much faster than any other time in your civilization, and it is increasing in momentum by the moment. Many of you stand in positions today to help your people in the preparation of the changes to come by preparing them for change. This does not mean that you have to force upon them concepts which they are not ready to receive, but in many ways by planting the seeds, they can be prepared so that these changes do not come as a terrific blow to them.

Before most of your peoples will accept even the minutest of the information that will be forthcoming, they will need to have this information verified by their authorities, and as the impact of this truth begins to dawn upon them, they will realize the folly of depending upon authority, and they shall begin searching other places for their information, for the truth. And those who are prepared in this day to serve these people, shall find themselves surrounded by seekers of truth. Those of you who believe in the new Age and its coming, who believe that man is about to awaken unto himself, we urge you to spend some effort in attaining an understanding that will qualify you as one for service.

Your great nation and its people are destined to play a great part in the new Age, but they must be prepared. It would be possibly quite impossible for any of you at this moment to conceive of all the changes that are to come, but I will say to you that they will affect every phase or life. They will change the entire concept of life, and the present way of life of all peoples will not be the same. And even man himself upon your planet will become a new and different being.

I leave you, my friends, by extending to you the love, the light and the understanding of my people. I am Oxal. ☸
