Yaum: Good evening to you, my friends.

It is my pleasure again to come among you. I should like to extend my greetings to each of you here, especially to our new friends here tonight.

Questioner: We're happy to have you back to visit with us, Yaum.

It is always a pleasure to come among you, and it is always refreshing to be with old friends, Is there anything you should like ins to talk about tonight?

Questioner: I am confused by the seeming conflict between the descriptions that we get from various sources concerning the conditions on the various planets in the Solar System. For example, the massive Mariner Probe which recently photographed the planet Mars, shows it to be almost totally a desert type of planet, with no surface water, extremes in weather, wind, etc.. Still, many of the contacts had described Mars as having a high civilization, also Venus and others are described similarly. Why do we get such a different conflicting description from all these sources?

Yaum: My friends, there are many, many areas of civilizations, or forms of life, as we might describe them, which exist upon various vibrations, As you well know, there exists upon your planet different levels of life, which are existing here and are intertwined, you see, yet you are not aware of them, is that not so?

Questioner: Are you speaking of the Astral plane?

Yaum: Yes, there is the Astral plane which exists right around you all the time, and there are many other planes of life, of nature life, such as what you call your nature spirits, the spirits of fire, of water, etc. All of these things are existing, yet when you photograph, do you see these things? You only see what your photograph is designed to photograph, which is a certain dimension. So an entire civilization could exist around or on or within a planet, yet it would not be visible at all to another dimension.

Questioner: These same beings which would be invisible to us, could come to Earth then, and manifest to us as visible beings, is that true?

Yaum: This is true by their knowledge of the laws of nature, they are able to change their rate of vibration. This would not necessarily be true of all, you see.

There are other civilizations which are only a few octave ahead of your civilization in vibration, which would be visible to you, and yet would be different.

There is much within God's creation that is not comprehensible to the finite mind at a certain stage of development. There is a certain part of this planet that is of a vibration similar to yours in its mass, you see, which would perhaps register on photographic film, yet it would show nothing else, for everything else would be of a higher vibration. This would be hard for you to accept or comprehend, but there are even bodies in your system, and I speak of them as bodies rather than planets or stars, because they are of such a vibration and density that they are not visible at all to many forms of life, As you are aware of in your own environment here those in the Astral form are at such a density that they can pass right through any of your third dimensional objects or persons without even being felt. There are bodies in Space which are of such a nature that your airplanes could go right through and never even be conscious of it.

I think there is recorded in some of your literature instances where certain individuals who were coming into a curtain state of consciousness have been able to see some of these things.

Questioner: How can we best serve our fellow man?

Yaum: There are so many ways that we can serve our fellow man. Even the little things that we so often overlook are so very important, such as a cheerful word, a smile and greeting, a friendly attitude, all or those things are very important in serving our fellow man because they bring happiness to him. There are many other ways in which each individual man can find a different way of serving his fellow man. As your Master has said, even as you do unto the least of them, you do it unto Him, a piece of bread to the hungry, a helping hand to the sick, or to those who come to you in search of higher knowledge, you can often help those by sharing your understanding with them. There are so many, many ways that it is rather hard to think of all of them, but anything that makes your fellow man happier, that gives him a better feeling of well being, of Peace, a better understanding of himself. Often you will find situations arising where you can lend a helping hand to someone. All of these things are serving your fellow man. Anything that you can do which helps will bring about his understanding.

Many people find ways of serving through certain organizations that help the underprivileged, those of lesser understanding, but of course, our greatest way is by example to others in our own living, by living the truth which we believe and know. As others see the results of living the truth in our own lives, it stimulates a spark in them, which causes them to also want to know the truth and to be truth. A great deal of the teaching that Jesus did was by example.

And, of course, we should always pray for others. This is something that any good person would do. It is a matter of taking advantage of the opportunities that come to us to do good for others, you see.

Questioner: Could you comment on the "Bermuda Triangle" where so many planes, boats, and people have disappeared without a trace?

Yaum: Yes, there has been much written about these things, and they have actually happened, but this is a great subject and would be an evening's lecture in itself, and I don't believe this would be the time to go into it. There are several of these areas around your planet, but this is quite a deep subject, and as I said would require much more time than we have here tonight.

Questioner: My other question is about the "Hollow Earth" theory. Could you comment on this?

Yaum: This also would require much time, and there again we are talking about another form of life, which would somewhat be related to what we were discussing although this is different in many respects in that this is a lower form of life, of a lower vibration. It is only occasionally that they come into your civilization, and mostly that is by accident. They are not really too much interested in life on the surface. They are, you might say, "Creatures of Darkness."

Questioner: Are the "Big Foot" and the "Sasquatch" some of these?

Yaum: These are part of the same life-form. They appear in different forms too, but as I say it would be quite lengthy to get into and would take more time than we have to spend. They are not anything for you to worry about. It is so seldom that they get out into your civilization.

Questioner: Quite often we hear about people having gone into the area where they live, is that possible for us to go there?

Yaum: It is possible, but it very seldom happens. There has been much more written about it than is known about it. Let us put it that way.

Questioner: Is there a central Sun inside of our planet?

Yaum: Not to my knowledge. As I said, I do not claim to know everything, but not to my knowledge. There have been a lot of things written which are speculation. What someone theorizes may be true, but this does not make it so, and until I experience it in my own consciousness, I do not know, and have not.

Questioner: Is there any world situation of great import such as volcanic activity or the monetary system, that you would care to talk about?

Yaum: Well, as I have said before, your economic system is gradually crumbling and will eventually collapse. You are all aware of the difficulties today in the stabilization of your present currency and eventually it entirely and your money will become worthless, Questioner: Is there an approximate time that you can give us when this will take place?

Yaum: No, this will depend upon how much your world leaders can do to prevent those things. They are struggling desperately to do it now, and are coming up with various solutions that are only temporary. In a short time they begin to fall, and the situation gradually gets worse, so one of days it will suddenly collapse. Your world leaders understand and know this. They know that this will happen, and they have been working for some time now on plans to eliminate the monetary system altogether and operate on a system which will not require an exchange of currency. One of the things which are being considered is a credit system where no medium of exchange would be used at all. Everything would be done upon paper. You would not receive a salary for your work. You would merely be given credit for it, and then you could buy something, whatever you purchased would be charged against your credits in the bank similar to your writing a check. Of course, they are developing computer systems for this, and everything would be handled on a computer. In a moment's time they would know just how much credit you have and whether you could buy anything.

Questioner: Will the credit be based upon our individual efforts?

Yaum: Oh surely.

Questioner: Will the same people be in control?

Yaum: Oh yes. The same ones will, be in control, but you find there will be a very difficult time in the changeover. It will be difficult to purchase because money will be valueless.

Questioner: Would going back to the Gold Standard be a solution, so that money had something behind it again?

Yaum: If you had something behind it, this would stabilize it, but this is the thing that lacking. There is no gold nor silver to guarantee your paper money. It has all vanished, and they realize that they can never reestablish this. So they are trying to work out a moneyless system.

Questioner: Will this be for the whole planet?

Yaum: Yes, it will be for the whole world, because it cannot work any other way. One effects the other, especially your major nations. They are dependent upon each other. They have trade systems and they have to have some sort of credit exchange, you see. They have to solve the problem this way, but this will not solve it either, because your people are not going to be too happy with it.

Questioner: Do you foresee total collapse then?

Yaum: I do. So do your world leaders, but they have to try to make this system work as long as they can, until they can devise something. There is much controversy between your international bankers as to how it should be done, and until they can devise something satisfactory to everyone they have to try to keep the old system working.

They are having a very difficult time as you can see by what is being made public, but let me say that there is a great deal more that is not made public.

Questioner: Do you see this as paralleling the Earth changes that are pending?

Yaum: It is all a part of the times that are ahead. It has been man's own doing, you see. Down through time his greediness and his lust has brought him to this, spiritually, economically and in your Earth's catastrophes. Many of the Earth's catastrophes are being brought about by the negativity that is being built around your planet by the thoughts and actions that have taken place over time. Just as has happened in other civilizations. If only man would live by the laws of his creator, if only your civilization had lived by the laws that were laid down to them by all of the great teachers that came, and there have been many down through the ages, these things would not happen.

At the beginning of every Age there has been a great Master sent to this planet to bring a message to the people, with the solutions to their problems that they have never found. Each one came and brought what was necessary at that time. Buddha, Krishna, Zoroaster, and Jesus the Christ, each one brought the message that was necessary for that Age, yet your people have distorted their message, they have not followed nor lived it and this is the result. Cause and effect, you cannot have an effect without a cause, and now your civilization is reaping the effect of the causes.

Questioner: Do you mean the entire world, or primarily this county?

Yaum: I mean your entire world civilization. Your county is no exception. The Buddhists have not followed the teaching of Buddha any more than the Christians have followed the teachings of Christ. They have for awhile, perhaps, in the beginning, but always the priesthood's and the leadership became corrupt, and they started to take advantage of their fellow man and to exploit him and so forth, then your civilization started downward.

Questioner: Did Jesus' mission which culminated in the Christ Consciousness, raise the vibration of our planet and the consciousness of our people?

Yaum: He brought, which I said, the message which was timely for the people of this Age. This is the Age when people should have learned the art of living together, of serving one another, the art of brotherly love, peace on Earth, good will towards men. But have you peace on Earth, have you good will towards men? No. Your civilization has continued to war and fight, and cheat each other and all of this.

He made a great demonstration. He showed men his potentialities, what man is capable of doing. Did he not tell his people, "All these things which I can do, ye can do, yea, even greater things."? And you can, but you must follow in his footsteps to do it. You cannot do it be warring, cheating each other, having lust and hatred in your hearts.

He said that you must love one another, but have your peoples loved one another? No. They have hated each other, so they have not raised their consciousness as a race, as a civilization. You look back at the civilization at this time of Jesus, when he was upon the Earth, and ask how much it has improved today, except scientifically. You are still fighting wars. You are not going around sticking daggers and spears in each other, you are even worse. You are using atomic bombs to kill them by the millions, you see.

Questioner: When Jesus was crucified and ascended, did this affect the ethers surrounding the Earth?

Yaum: It did not affect the ethers as much as your negativity has affected them since. It affected the ethers at the time and of course, nothing is ever lost. This consciousness is still there, but your people have not conceived it. They have not had the capacity to do so. That is why at this time it is necessary to separate the chaff from the wheat. It is time to start over again, and this will happen in the next two decades after this one. The separation is already beginning, and it will gain momentum as time moves on.

My friends, I am told that I have stayed my time. It has been my very great pleasure to spend this time with you. If I have been of any help to you, I am grateful. I would like to extend to each of you my most sincere blessings, my love and my understanding. May each of you, as you go forth find peace, and new love. May you find greater understanding of truth, and may you become truth. I ask that the Great Ones pour forth their blessings and the love and their peace into the heart of each of you.

Go forth in peace, my friends. Peace. Peace. ♣
