Samuel: Greetings to you, my friends, I am Samuel. May the peace of the Great Ones be with you.

There are today, my friends, many great souls upon your planet who have incarnated here in the past few years. They are among the young ones, the young generation that is coming forward now. These great souls have a great part to play in the coming times and changes and will become great spiritual leaders among you. There are many who have incarnated to fulfill the last of their karma so that they will need no more to return here. These too, will play a great part in the times to come. Most of these have not yet come into the realization of their real part to play, but they will gradually unfold as does the flower. Many of them are seeking most sincerely to find their place.

Among many of them there is considerable confusion at this time. They have ideals of their own but as they look around them and see what is happening in your civilization they are not happy with what they see. They cannot bring themselves to follow the leadership that they find because this leadership does not come up to their ideals, to what they know is right. They see the people being exploited, being taken advantage of by others who would be and are leaders in your civilization, leaders who are seeking only power for their own satisfaction, with little regard for their fellow man and his welfare and well being. These things they do not like and something within them rebels against this sort of thing. This is why you are seeing much of the turmoil that is on your planet today.

There are also those among this generation who still have tendencies toward violence. These, too, see the folly of the system and they would combat it with violence and these you would find, if they were to gain power, would not be any better than the ones that are in power today.

But those souls of which I first spoke, will not attempt to correct with violence but rather in a peaceful way and they will be more successful. They will become the leaders in the New Age. They will be the ones to direct and to lead their fellow man into an era of brotherly love, where everyone will serve each other. All things will be done for the benefit of all and not for the benefit of a few. The Creator placed enough here for all, that none need to have lack. But as long as there are those who would take advantage and would seek to gather multitudes of possessions to further their own power man will not exist in a state of brotherly love.

You see man must realize and will realize in the New Age and will know that all men are one, that no man is complete unto himself. They will realize that by working as a unit all will benefit and all will have their needs met. None will want more than he needs. You can only use a limited amount of anything, why should you want more? As long as your daily needs are met, why should you want great accumulations? This has been the downfall of all civilizations and all nations. Man has started out serving the Father and serving each other and he has prospered. That is how great nations have grown, but it seems that once he has reached the state of prosperity, greed raises its head. Men become greedy, they lust for power and soon they are on the downward trend, the civilization begins to crumble, the nation begins to crumble. You are seeing this happening all around you today. Your nation, as other nations throughout your world are crumbling today. The foundation is falling away from under them. They are struggling to save their power, yet they are falling. Without this spiritual foundation man does not have a chance, he cannot survive. I say to you, my friends, build your house upon the rock and let the storms come and it shall stand against them. Those who build their houses upon the sand will find that they will crumble when the storms come. They will fall away and they will have but naught.

Your great prosperous nation, of which you are a part, is crumbling rapidly and there is nothing your leaders can do to save it, although they are struggling desperately, not realizing that they are struggling in the wrong direction. They will never save it in this way. It can only be saved, my friends, by turning to God, by serving Him and if you are to serve Him you will serve Him by serving your fellow man. "For even as you do it unto the least of these you have done it unto Me."

I say to people of Earth, this is your salvation, this is your hope, this is your glory. But how few realize or will even listen. It is as in the days of Noah. People go upon their merry way, shouting "This cannot happen, this will not happen. Our leaders will save us, we have faith in our leaders." But they have no faith in their God and they will find that their leaders will let them down, but when you serve God, He will never let you down.

This, my friends, is my message tonight to people of Earth. Let those who have ears to hear, hear. Let those who have eyes to see, see. Those that would sleep, let them sleep.

May each of you here this night realize the importance of these things. May each of you realize the importance of putting first things first. May each of you build a foundation that will carry you through the most severe storm of life that could possibly come to you.

May each of you receive the help of the Great Ones as you struggle on your path upward.

May each of you receive a helping hand whenever it is needed.

I invoke upon each of you the love and the blessings of all the Great Ones.

Peace be upon you, beloved, Peace, peace. ☸
