These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Teacher: May the Peace of Great Ones rest deep in the hearts of each of you. Peace, Peace, Peace. Beloved friends, my son.

I have been afforded this privilege tonight through the consent of this instrument and his wisdom. Know ye well for this I am grateful. Know ye well that nothing comes to you chance—nor to any of us—that life is one great plan in our evolution to the ultimate.

Now, I should like to talk to you for a few moments, concerning the divinity of man. With your permission, we shall proceed upon this subject.

I wonder how much realization each of you have within your own heart of your Divinity. I wonder if you could come with me for a few moments and explore life in a level of consciousness beyond what you know as planet Earth. Yes, let us go far beyond, even beyond this galaxy and let us explore life as we find it here. Here we find as we approach that our sight has become more keen, that we begin to see into densities that we have not heretofore seen. Here we find beings moving about, carrying on a life, a social association. We are finding that they also have their cities, their country sides. But, as we move among these beings, we note a consciousness, an attitude that is strange to us.

We do not see these beings hurrying to and fro, attempting to strain, or to have anxiety of any kind for their well being. We find that their every need is met as the need arises. We do not find that they are concerned at all about these things. We find that their every need is met, as it is needed. We find that we become aware of their attitudes, their thinking, and we find no thoughts in their hearts of resentment, fear. We find no jealousy, but we do find a great love, a great desire within their consciousness to serve.

We find no thought of self, we find only thought concerning the whole. We find that these beings do not even think of themselves as individuals, but we find that entwined in their consciousness is an awareness that they are a part of a great vast sea of life, and they see this great sea of creation, of life, as one great being, of which they are but a cell, each performing his part to make this being a perfect and harmonious being. We find a group consciousness of this type, each realizing his or her individuality, yet a realization of being a part of all creation, a part that is as important in the function of this creation as any other part, realizing that this great sea of power that you call God, flows through each and every cell of this great being, making each part, however minute, an equally important part for the functioning of this great being.

Now you too, my friends, are equally as important a part of this vast sea of this great being known as life, or as man. But it even goes beyond man, for it includes all things. Nothing that exists within this great sea is separate from the other. Therefore, each and every one of us contains within our own being the power of the universe. We have full command of all the power that is flowing, it is flowing through us, as it is flowing through every other part of all creation. And when we have come into this realization of our divinity, of our true self, we shall know our place, we shall be able to attune our consciousness to the consciousness of anything within the sea—whether it be plant life, animal life or what have you. And believe you me, beloved ones, you will find, when you have come into the knowing of these things, that all things will respond to your desires.

You will find that you will be able to communicate with any part of nature that you desire, without effort or strain. You will merely attune your consciousness to the consciousness of that with which you desire to communicate. You say, "Will this tree talk to me?" and I say to you, "Yes, it will talk to you," and you will know what it has said to you."

All life responds to love and understanding. You cannot have one without the other, for they are one. I say to you, beloved friends, it is so important that those of you who would travel with your planet into the age that lies before you, to learn these things. Awaken! Awaken unto yourself. Long enough has Earth Man beseeched a false divinity. It is time for him to awaken, for the only place he will find this divinity is within his own heart. So, beloved friends, search deep within and find this divine power that you have been looking for. Bring it out and be It. It has been my most sincere wish that Earth people shall come into the realization of these things rapidly, for the time is truly short.

It has been my very great pleasure to have this opportunity to speak to you, and my son, I have been most grateful of this opportunity to speak to you. And now, I am told that my time has expired and I must vacate this instrument.

But before I depart, I should like to say that you have had standing with you this night and invoking a great blessing upon you, one of the great Masters of the Tribunal of this Galaxy. This has been a great honor for me, and I am sure it must be for you.

My peace, My love and my blessings I extend to all of you.

Peace be with you, my friends, Peace, my son.

Peace, Peace, Peace. ♣
