

Caveat: These communications are informative teaching instructions for those who seek to increase their understanding of themselves and the magnitude of the future lying before us all. These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Although it has been checked for obvious errors, it has not been finally edited.

Zalhem: Greetings to you my children, I am Zalhem. I thought it would be nice to spend a few moments with you again.

You are living in some very important times. Your science is moving rapidly in the development and the understanding of many things that are going to be used and needed in the age to come.

In this country many of the great scientists of Atlantis have reincarnated and again are pursuing their sciences, not realizing, of course, that this is the case. That is why you have advanced more in this century than you have in all the rest of your civilization up to this time. That was the turning point.

There is great interest among your scientists today, in the power of the mind. A few years back some of them began to suspect that the mind had much greater power and potential than they realized. So, in many of your countries the scientists banded together to research this very quietly.

Some of them had very good intentions. Others saw opportunities here, if developed, to control others, and to use this power in a negative way to gain greater power over their fellow man. Therefore, you have two factions working in this field.

The results will depend on which group gains control. We see some very serious-minded people in this field who see the dangers. They also see the good that can come from the knowledge gained here, in that people can use this mind power for their own good. It could improve their understanding, their environment and their way of life.

We believe, at this point, that the negative is losing some ground. A few of them are also beginning to realize the dangers and are having second thoughts about how these powers should be used. So we believe that some progress has been made on the positive side.

There has been for some years, those who came into a slight realization of the importance of the control of energy and matter. They believe that by gaining greater knowledge they could learn to convert, at will, energy to matter and matter to energy. This was partially due to the fact that some of your scientists were open-minded and willing to research what you call the UFO phenomena. They realized that for these individuals to travel the great distances that they did, and to do it in a time frame that would be reasonable, they must have some way of converting energy to matter and matter to energy.

Another thing that helped them to realize this was the fact that these vehicles could be seen with the physical eye, then suddenly, apparently disappear and then again reappear. Many of these things were done to stimulate the curiosity of these individuals so that they might use their mind, that they might think more deeply and come to the realization of what is really taking place. This happened among many of your scientists.

So there is a great deal of effort going on today in the scientific field to learn to convert energy to matter and matter to energy as they choose. Some accomplishments have been made in this field by scientists who were open-minded, and have researched the subject of UFOs deeply, and came to the conclusion that these people have to be of another vibration, that there are other vibrations, and there is the possibility of converting them back and forth from one to the other, once you have the secret.

Many of your scientists who accept the UFOs and know that they are real, do not speak out publicly; many more than you would think. Therefore, there is much effort put forth to discover their secret. Those who come from other realms and have this knowledge could impart this knowledge to them, but that's not the way it works.

Man must develop his own science, he must work for it. In other words, nothing comes for free, it must be earned. Then there is the right time for all these things; each in its own time, there is a time for everything as you have been told. Now is the time for these things to be developed and perfected. So you are in an interesting period of time, and are going to see some great things accomplished.

I think more and more of your people are coming to the realization that the earth's population must learn to live together in peace. Because the powers that are going to be discovered in the very near future—and some have already been discovered—could annihilate your population very easily if they were unleashed.

This realization is growing stronger every day among your people, but this has somewhat a negative effect in that people are also becoming frightened of new inventions and new things. But it is not the inventions that are dangerous. It is man that is dangerous in the way that he uses them.

All things are meant for the good of mankind, but it is man who brings about destruction by the wrong use of these energies and powers. There is no reason for man to have the desire to destroy his fellow man to gain power over him. For your Creators have put everything here necessary for your survival and for your well-being on this planet and around it.

Therefore, if man will but take the right attitude, use the proper ethics, there would be no problem. Few people realize the importance of being ethical. To be ethical one must always keep in mind what is good for all and not what is good for one and not just for himself or a few. If a man is really ethical he will do nothing to harm or inconvenience his fellow man. We find among people of Earth that ethics are very lacking, but more and more man is coming to the realization that if he is to survive, he must develop ethics.

The Brotherhood will not tolerate an unethical ego, for there is no place in the Brotherhood for this type of individual. That is one of the first things one must learn, because without that, he cannot evolve in the right direction.

Questioner: That comes down to the little things like honesty, etc.. Indeed it does. Every individual, his every action and thought, should be ethical. He should not hurt or inconvenience anyone. He must consider his every word. Because someone is unethical to you is no excuse for you to be unethical to another, even that same individual.

Often the unethical person associating with ethical people will do a turnaround because he will see the folly of his ways. So you see, you do not gain anything by being unethical to someone just because they have been unethical to you.

My friends, this is a must if man is to survive, because the lack of ethics can only bring destruction to a person, a nation, or a civilization. Those who remain unethical in their dealings will be the ones who will be eliminated come the Judgment Day. They will not be able to enter the New Age of justice, for ethics, justice, and the Brotherhood of Man must be the emphasis.

Questioner: Does this include declaring or having the courage of one's convictions? Is this part of being honest and ethical, to declare them?

Zalhem: This depends, one of the rules of the Brotherhood is not to comment on something until asked. So you do not, from your soap box, preach against the unethical, but you keep your own ethics. That is your responsibility. When asked to speak on a subject, speak the truth as you see it.

Questioner: I am working in "quality control," and I have to watch that people don't cheat. I have to be the one that says, "There is something wrong here." Am I wrong in saying that?

Zalhem: No, you are not, for this is your job, your responsibility to see that this product is made properly. You would be shirking your responsibility if you did not point this out to this person.

Questioner: But they are not asking for my opinion.

Zalhem: That is a different thing. You are not being ethical if you do not maintain the quality of that product because you do not want to hurt the person's feelings who is being unethical. There are times when this is necessary.

Returning good for evil also comes under ethics. Just because someone mistreats you, you do not have to mistreat them. This only sets up an endless circle. When you do mistreat them, you only irritate the matter. The other one responds, then you respond and it gets into big argument. In certain cases when you return good for evil and love for hate, often you can turn this person around. It finally dawns on them that they are wasting their time, that you have something that they want and they begin to reverse their procedure to get it.

Now, my children, I must leave you. I invoke the blessings of the Great Ones upon each of you. Go in peace, beloved ones.

Peace, peace.

(Excerpt)

Questioner: Do you have time to comment on the problem in Oregon with the Rajneesh Cult?

Zalhem: Well, this gets very involved. But there are many of the so called teachers from India who come over here and set up their own Ashrams or what have you, because their profits are much better here than in India. India is a very poverty stricken country, and it is very hard to receive compensation for that type of thing there. I think that in this instance, that this is a case of that kind, and this man is a very good salesman. He is a charmer of people, he can sway them, and he has some good teachings. He is using that to sway the people. He is doing things that individuals there feel are beneficial to them, and perhaps have improved their life. But the only thing that has improved in their life is what they have done for themselves. If you look at his morals, and the things that he advocates and allows to go on, certainly you could not call him a master. So mainly his big interest is in his own power, the power he can have over these people. He makes it appear that it is for their good but he reaps the financial benefits. Some of the things he has, and the way he does some things, draws the worship of these people and this makes him feel great, too. The fact that he advocates and allows some of the immorality there, and also that his own health is not good at all, should tell you something.

Questioner: He stated the other day that his was the only true religion and that all others were but immature experiments.

Zalhem: Again, that should tell you something. Anyone who claims to have everything and be the only one who has truth should always be suspect. ♣
