

Caveat: These communications are informative teaching instructions for those who seek to increase their understanding of themselves and the magnitude of the future lying before us all. These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Yaum: Good evening to you, my friends. I have been very busy and have not had an opportunity to visit with you for some time. I should like to extend my special greetings to your new friends here tonight, as I do not believe that I have been in their presence before. And to our old friends from Michigan, I'd like to extend my special greetings and my joy in being with you again. To the rest of you I extend my most sincere love and blessings.

Now you were discussing tonight a very complex problem or subject, should I say. I should like with your permission to make a few comments, to share my understanding and to say that this is my understanding that I'm willing to share with you, be it right or be it wrong—this is for you to judge. Do not accept anything as being so because I say so or because anyone else says it is so. These things you must eventually prove for yourself. We can only share as brothers and sisters.

Perhaps if you were to canvas many people, many clergyman, many students of the Bible or metaphysics or what have you, you would find, many different definitions of the word grace. The subject that you were discussing, grace, like many other things, develops in man himself and is determined by man himself. Through the ages, man has needed something outside himself to look to, to be able to lay his troubles upon and to depend upon for help. It is somewhat like God.

In past times, man was not able to conceive of a God other than something like himself or something that he could see. It had to be something that he could see and visualize therefore he built idols and worshiped the idol as his God. As this began to pass, he then began to visualize a personality in the sky as his God, a personality like himself. This is something he could visualize, he could understand and he looked to this God for his salvation and his help, always looking without.

Now we are coming into an age where we are beginning to search further. No God has an all encompassing power. It is something that is yet impossible for man to completely comprehend. Because it is so vast, we are still somewhat inclined to comprehend this great power as something out there. Yet we know that it is all encompassing, it is in everything, it encompasses the entire Universe. God's Creation, as you call it, does not only include Man of Earth, it includes the whole Universe. There are many other civilizations in all stages of evolution throughout space. The same all encompassing Universal Mind, let us call it, includes all of these creations too. Universal Mind works through its creations, which is man.

The Law of Grace could be somewhat compared to this. It is not something that comes from without, someone out there forgiving us of our what we call, "wrong doings." But it is rather putting us into a state of mind where we can forgive ourselves and then we have removed the guilt and we can proceed from there in our search for truth. The Law of Grace gives us this opportunity to free ourselves from this guilt so that we might proceed on our path of knowledge.

Spiritual growth is nothing more than understanding, gaining of knowledge. How we use this knowledge is what determines our spirituality. To be spiritual, one must be loving, understanding and have wisdom. These are the things that make us spiritual. We must be able to understand the laws and to use them for the good of mankind and to raise mankind.

Your Great Master whom you call Jesus Christ said, "Knock and it shall be opened unto you, seek and ye shall find. Ye shall find the truth and the truth shall set you free." The truth will set you free! That is what will set you free. Grace frees you from your guilty consciousness and allows you to search out that truth. It does not eliminate your karma.

But often and more often than not, the severe karma of an individual who is really seeking the truth, will be postponed until he has reached a state where he understands karma and can see the karma that he needs to pay. He will then pay that karma and do it in a loving, willing manner. He will know that this is what he created and that he must pay the debt. Many who have reached the state of adepthood and have passed from this planet, so far as their need to reincarnate, meaning they do not need to reincarnate as far as their knowledge and understanding are concerned, may have to return for the sole purpose of paying off a balance of karma that they still have and this is often the case. If I recall properly, did not Raphael tell you that was why he had incarnated in this present lifetime? So you see, you get to the state of understanding where you do not want to leave any debts behind. I think too often we think of karma as something terrible that we have to pay. This is not so, it depends on the individual and what he has created. Man in reality is mind. This body which you are using, in this environment, is nothing more than a vehicle for your mind to express in this particular dimension.

Now you wanted to know something about Mount St. Helens? Well, I'm not an expert on volcanoes. I have not particularly followed your Mount St. Helens, although I have been very much aware of its actions. I believe the consensus of opinion of the higher planes is that it will probably react for quite some time yet to come. We also think that it has perhaps spent its worst so far as destruction of a wide area is concerned. We cannot always predict what something like that is going to do because there is some dependence on the vibrations that man himself puts around the situation.

Questioner: Do you mean that if we send positive hopes and prayers then it will go back to sleep?

Yaum: Yes, these things are definitely effective.

Questioner: Would you care to comment upon the theory presented about the Russians manipulating the atmosphere around Mount St. Helens?

Yaum: I do not believe that it was triggered by that, however they are using energies in destructive ways that your people are not aware of and it is being discovered by some of your scientific men who are willing to really search out these things themselves. The scientists in your country have neglected until recently, and by recently I mean in the past ten to twelve years, their research into some of these areas. However the Russians started to research immediately after your last World War. They have advanced in these fields much farther than have the scientists in your country. They have, for one thing, attained the records and writings of Nicola Tesla and many of Wilhelm Reich's and other scientists of the world who were ahead of their times and left behind certain records of their experimentations. Your scientists have not been able to accept many of these things as being a reality or being possible to attain, just as they were not able to accept these experiments when these men developed them.

The people of your great nation have allowed themselves to become more interested in the monetary use of science than in the use of it for the good of mankind or the destruction. The problem now, as it has always been, is that what man can use to benefit himself, to make his life more full, to enjoy greater health and all of these things, can also be used for the destruction of man. This has been one of the big problems, as man has progressed through civilization after civilization, he has never been able to conquer in totality that lower self, the desire for power over others or to master his greed. He has used these forces to gain power for himself and this can only bring destruction.

We certainly hope that in the coming age man will be able to conquer his lower self. He has not attained it in this age however with the fall of this civilization, we hope that man will come into the realization of the necessity to gain this wisdom which we so often talk about. Although your new civilization, which all of you here will be involved in, will start out on a high level. Those who will be responsible for the setting up and carrying out of the development of this New Age, will be those who have this wisdom and who use it to build a civilization of true brotherly love.

Then after the thousand years has been established, the incarnation of others will begin and then will come the tests. As the civilization grows and spreads across the new earth, those in the higher planes will be doing all that they can to help promote brotherly love, wisdom and understanding.

The forces of darkness will do all that they can to bring about the downfall of your civilization of the New Age, as you call it, just as they have with past civilizations and with this one. But we believe that this new civilization is going to be strong enough to overcome the dark forces and carry out the new civilization to its fullest.

Questioner: With Jesus the Christ here to help to guide us in the New Age, it is hard to see how we could fail again, but I know that it is possible.

Yaum: There will be the Christ and there will be many others who will help in establishing the New Age. But once it is established, they will withdraw, then it will be up to the people as to the final outcome.

No one, no matter how great they might be, can bring about the development of another. Each must do it upon their own. If I were to direct another and protect and do all of their development for them, it would do them no good, just as you cannot learn for your children. They have to learn for themselves. You have to point the way, direct them and show them, but they must do it.

If a child does not study, does not practice, does not develop himself, he will never grow. So all you can do is direct him, give him the guidelines, show him the importance of them. Try to instill in your children the desire to learn, to search for Truth.

Now about the "Second Coming," as you call it, I will say this: Did not your Master Jesus give you the guidelines? Did He not give you the means by which you should know? Did He not say that there would be many who will say that "The Christ is here, or the Christ is there, or He is the Christ"? He said, "Believe not these for when I come the world will know.” Also, did He not say that many would be fooled, that many would come in the name of the Christ, doing great feats, healing the sick and doing miracles. But because one does miracles does not make them a God. If one knows the law or is psychic, he can perform miracles of any kind as the law can be used for good or evil.

But man is going to have to make these choices himself, no one is going to do it for him. You must weigh the evidence and watch closely for the fruits of the individual. They sometimes express or radiate a good vibration which can be mistaken for a vibration of love. So you must be careful in accepting any individual as the Christ. I leave you to draw your own judgment.

Now about your economic situation. Although we see many things around the bend which you do not see, they can be changed by man’s own thoughts and actions and often are. This is why often predictions do not work out because they can only be based on how one sees the situation at that time as you see what the effect will be because of the law of cause and effect.

Your economic situation, so far as I can see, shows no sign of improvement because it is in the hands of those who are manipulating it for their own gain, their own profits. They care not for the welfare of mankind.

Your present system, as I see it, cannot and will not survive. Some people are saying that the problems can be solved quite easily by sharing the wealth, the resources, etc. But this has always been a device used by those who are seeking more and more power. Until man himself changes himself as a whole, this is not going to come about. A new system and a new government for the good of all the people will not be formed before the New Age is established.

Your civilization today, as I see it, has passed the point of no return so far as trying to save this situation. It has been allowed to go so long unchecked and has allowed certain individuals to gain such great power that they can manipulate governments all over the world.

These individuals manipulate the finances of nations for their own gain and purposes and this is the reason that you find your country in the financial situation that it is in today. I have said enough.

My friends, I leave you be extending to each of you my most sincere love and blessings.

May each of you in your search for Truth great progress in the very near future. May you come into a true realization of who and what you are. May you come into a true realization of your own divinity, your own potential.

May you set your goals high and reach them rapidly. May the love, the peace and the joy of all the Great Ones be bestowed upon each of you now.

As you go forth, walk in peace, walk in love, walk in the Light.

Peace, peace, peace, go in peace. ✿
