Yaum: Greetings to you, my friends.

I should like to extend greetings to our old friends here from across the continent. I have missed visiting with all of you since I have been very busy in my work and it gives me great pleasure to be among you again. I have not been unaware of you, my friends, and your activities. I have managed in my very busy life to also follow what each of you are doing and I would like to commend each of you for your work and your service. You are finding, I am sure, that there is much need for your service and your guidance, your help.

There many people today who are searching for the way and all of those who are searching sincerely are being given help. Help is directed to them from a source that can reach them on their level of understanding. That is why we have so many paths that can approach the same goal. For you are reaching some on one level and others are reaching them on another level and we must recognize all of these paths and work as well as we can, hand in hand with them, without any inharmony. We must meet on the grounds of agreement, not on the grounds of disagreement, you see. And if we do this, gradually we all come together at the same goal post.

I would say to you, my friends, that you are finding yourselves being inspired to do certain things, to follow certain procedures or methods where you feel there is a need. I would urge you most earnestly to follow these inspirations that are coming to you, for you are being inspired and guided into the path where you can do the most good and serve to the best of your ability. If you render this service in love, in peace and in understanding, with no thought of self gain or self-reward you will find them most rewarding, most satisfying and inspiring. You will find that you will always have strength and the courage to do that which is required of you.

You are living, as you know, in very trying times and they are not going to improve. Your civilization, your nations, are reaping the results of past thoughts, actions, the results of the causes, you see. Much of this could have been avoided had more of your peoples changed their thoughts and their actions soon enough.

I am sad to say that this not happened. It is not impossible to change the effect of a cause if it is done soon enough, but if the action comes too late or the cause is not changed before the action is practically upon you, then it is impossible to change.

Questioner: If we personally want to change the result of a cause then it is possible for us to do this?

Yaum: If you do it soon enough and not put it off until the result takes place. You have to act in time to prevent the effect. The law is the same whether it is an individual, a nation or a civilization. Everything that is happening today is the effect of a cause sometime in the past. This is the law and you cannot change the law. It is possible at times to lessen the effect. You may not stop the effect altogether, but it can be lessened by changing.

Questioner: Is this then what we call grace? And can it be effective at any moment when, in love, we try to correct our mistakes?

Yaum: Yes, this is grace. God created this and grace has always been present but you must take advantage of it. It is one thing to make an error, it is another thing to recognize it and correct it. If you have made an error and recognize it and you immediately start to correct it, the effect of the error will lessen in proportion to the correction and the time involved, also depending on what the act was and how immediate the reaction could be. Some reactions could come very fast, others could take various lengths of time. If one would study thoroughly and recognize the law and live by the law, he would almost automatically be setting up causes that would bring harmonious effects. But he has to desire to do this himself, no one can force him to do this. He must make this decision himself if he wants an abundant life—that he will live within the law and do unto other men as he would have them do unto him. If one would live by this law alone it would change his life, if it is not done in a half-hearted manner. We must not try to fool ourselves into thinking that we are living this law 100% if we are not. If we could do this 100% our life would be changed; it would be one of great peace and great abundance.

You see the Father wants to give you His Kingdom, He wants you to have it. But if you do not have the wisdom to use it, it does you no good. So, if we continually create—and we are creating moment by moment, every thought we think, every word we utter is a creation—and if we continually think the proper thoughts and do the proper acts, we cannot help but receive only the best because like attracts like, draws it to you, you are bound to benefit. If you apply the law diligently, sincerely, the action will be a almost immediately noticeable in your life. But we cannot apply the law selfishly. It is like giving. If we give with the thought of receiving, as is done by many, who give entirely selfishly because they know if they give certain amounts here and a certain amount there, that they will reap a benefit from it, otherwise they would not do it. The thought and the motive back of the act bring the result, you see, as your Master explained in His great “sermon on the mount” that it is not the letter of the law but the spirit behind it that really counts.

Questioner: Would you care to tell us anything about yourself?

Yaum: My fields are many and varied but we have accomplished much, but not as much as we would have liked to have accomplished. We have tried very hard to influence some of your great leaders to do certain things that would bring about better relationships and better results in your civilization. It has not been easy. In some areas we have been successful and in others we have not. The forces of darkness are working equally as hard to influence in the other direction. Many are more open and receptive to the dark forces than they are to the Forces of Light and are influenced more by them than they are by us.

There are many things, at this point, that we know that we cannot change. I would say that Earth people have been for some time, riding on extra time which has been gained for them by the forces of Light from many realms of life who have been working in their behalf. They have been successful in withholding a great amount of what you would call disaster, giving your people more time to try to come into the Light. And some have, but not near as many as we had hoped. In many of your people the consciousness of hate, greed and lust is so strong that it is going to take many, many more lifetimes to bring them up out of the darkness in to the Light, to bring them from death into life.

Some of these souls have been through millions of what would be termed as years in your thinking and they are still in darkness. Many of these souls will have to return to other areas of space or planets where they can fit into a similar dimension, perhaps what you call a third dimension, that will fit their consciousness. The time element, as you know it, fits into the cycles of your galaxy, the movement around the sun which has its effect of course. But many of these souls will be moved to an entirely different galaxy where the cycles may vary but this is not important as a year there would cover a different length of time. You are right that the cycles of time provide a graduation period only every so often, which covers a vast period of time. You have to go through the school and if you make the grades as you go along you are doing very well but if you fail a grade you only repeat that grade. You do not go back to the beginning, you begin with what you have already accomplished and start from there. Nothing is ever lost, but if you do not accomplish what is necessary to accomplish in one cycle of events, then you take it over again. It is the same as when you reincarnate here, once you have accomplished what you came in to accomplish there is no need to reincarnate into that situation again, you would only be wasting your time.

Questioner: You said, at one time, that a soul could take as much time as he wanted to, to grow spiritually, but that at some time in the process of evolution that he would move forward. Did we understand you correctly?

Yaum: Yes, this is right and there are many who have been at the same level for many, many lives and incarnations. They have not advanced but, as a rule, they do advance some. There are not too many who stay on one level for any great long period of time because it is the nature of God to move forward, to advance ... It is true that certain groups, certain soul groups seem to evolve pretty much together and this is because they have a rapport they are on the same vibration and they move together. But there are always these strays who lag behind but through prayer and the light and the love of the Father and all of His Angels surrounding them, they eventually move forward. There are many other things which enter in here which are too long, too deep and too complicated to go into now, but which may affect the advancement of one. There are those who have advanced to great heights and then greed, selfishness creeps in and they begin to use their knowledge, their power for self-advantage and for the destruction of others. And when this happens a great setback can take place, as being cast into the sea of darkness, which we will not go into now. But there are these things happening but it does not happen to the majority. We do not dwell upon these things, we would much rather encourage you to seek the Light, the knowledge of the Light rather than of the darkness.

Questioner: Is the time near when, as you once said, we would be grateful to have a crust of bread?

Yaum: You need only to look around you to see the evidence of the fast approach of these times. I'm sure that all of you here recognize this as you need only to look at your environment to see how man has destroyed it, how he has used nature's surpluses, her supplies for selfish gains. He has wasted them, destroyed them purposely in many cases and nature is bound to react.

Questioner: Can you tell us anything more about an “earthshaking event” that Oxal said would occur very soon?

Yaum: I think that he has more to say to you a that subject so I will leave that to him.

Questioner: Do you know if it is possible that Orcas island near here, was visited or inhabited by some of the Lemurians before the sinking of their continent?

Yaum: There are many places during the destruction of these civilizations where the remnants migrated. I am not, for the moment, sure of just what took place upon the spot that you mentioned, this could have happened. There are many places where great spiritual sanctuaries have been in the past and the vibrations of these still remain and one who is sensitive can pick up these vibrations and will feel them when in that area. If they happen to be one who belonged to a group that was there, they would be especially sensitive to it, which might even bring a recall to their consciousness.

Questioner: We were told that there were, and would be again, sacred grounds in the Grants Pass, Oregon area.

Yaum: Yes, there have been. This is true in many, many places all over the world, of course.

Questioner: Are you familiar with the two communications that were received telepathically from the Silent Brotherhood?

Yaum: No, I am not since I have not been in touch with you here for sometime as my entire efforts have been required in other places.

Questioner: We hope that we have been helping people constructively. Do you have any suggestions as to what more we can do in our own bailiwick? We have only our own guidance to follow and I hope that we go forth when we are called.

Yaum: I do not think you will find a better guidance than your own intuitive guidance. You have some very high teachers guiding you and influencing you. It is only necessary that you follow and heed the guidance and impressions that you receive. Do not allow your carnal mind or reasoning to sway you from the purpose that you feel that you must carry out. You are doing well, you are reaching many people, you are being of great assistance to them in helping them to understand and to find the way. But I would say that it is important that you point out to these people the urgency of the times and the urgency to prepare themselves spiritually, for this is going to be their greatest protection as you are aware.

For in the times to come, it is going to be those who have developed spiritual awareness who will be able to stand in the fire. Spiritual awareness is not accomplished just by studying and becoming knowledgeable, one must live the laws because man is not going to be judged by what he says but upon what he does, what his service to his fellow man is. It is upon his service that he will be judged. I would suggest that you emphasize these points and the importance of these things, because we can know all of these things intellectually and if we do nothing else, it will not be of much help. Another thing is the materialistic or the carnal side. Earth man, over the periods of years, has become more and more carnal and materialistic minded, he has put his faith in these things. This is his god and of course, when his god crumbles he has nothing. But if his faith and his love is for his Creator, for his fellow man and in the spiritual realms, he is anchored to a rock, you see. These are the things that we must emphasize in these days for that which is of the carnal is going to pass away, that which is of the spirit will remain forever.

Questioner: Are you still in Communist China?

Yaum: A great deal of the time.

Now I must vacate this instrument. It has given me great pleasure to spend this time with you tonight. If I have been of just a small service I am happy and I thank you for accepting me into your presence. You have benefited me and I thank you.

Questioner: Will you please join us, now or later, in our prayers and in surrounding our children in the Light?

Yaum: Yes, I will.

Let us gather all of our loved ones here, in spirit, with us. Let us place all of them in a circle here before us. We can do this, you know, in thought, for thought has power, thought has form. So let us place them here. Each of you whom you want to place in the circle.

As we have them placed here let us place around them God's circle of infinite light, the infinite Flame. And as this Flame springs up around them, encircling them, let us ask and visualize all of their problems being drained, pulled from them and consumed in the Flame.

Then let us visualize the pure white light of the Christ coming down upon them, filling them with Christ love. This love is filling their hearts, it is planting the seed of love in their hearts, the seed of the Christ which is love.

Now that we have implanted this seed of love, we are going to, from now on, visualize it taking root and growing, becoming ever stronger and eventually blossoming forth into a being of pure love.

We ask that each of them may be guided and influenced day-by-day, by this love and that the influence of it may grow a little stronger each day until it has reached maturity.

They are, because He is.

And so it is.

Now I must leave you. My peace, my blessings I give unto each of you.

Peace be with you, peace, peace. ✨
