Teacher: Peace be with you, you my friends.

As man travels the corridors of time and gathers unto him experiences that brings him growth and understanding, he develops a wisdom, a knowledge and an understanding, but how often man must repeat his experiences over and over again, before he really becomes aware of his learning. Unless your awareness keeps you conscious at all times, many lessons are missed. Man comes only into this physical existence for experiences that can be obtained in no other way, but how often in the past generations has man experienced great things that should have brought him great wisdom, great understanding, but still he failed. Civilization upon civilization has risen and fallen upon planet Earth due to the lack of man 's understanding, and many of these beings have passed through and shared the responsibility for these failures and yet have not learned.

We are most anxious that this civilization does not fail, that it does not, through its ego greed and hate, bring about again its destruction. This is still possible in your civilization, and unless man of Earth will come forth and exercise his rights, he shall again fail. This realization is coming to many of your people, but as yet, few of them are doing anything about it, or if they be, it is very little. The time is rapidly drawing nearer when Earth Man must stand forth and be counted. We wonder how many today would stand forth among all others and be counted who would stand forth with what they know to be true. Soon the lead must be taken, and we hope and pray that it shall come from this great continent upon which you live, for this is the logical nation to take the lead in bringing about the Brotherhood of man upon planet Earth.

We are doing all in our power to get this Nation to stand forth upon the principles upon which it was founded. Your nation professes to be a Christian nation, to follow the principles of this great Teacher, but as yet this has not occurred. We wonder why it is so difficult for a culture such as this, to lack this foresight. If these principles could be followed by this nation, could be established among its masses, it should be the greatest power upon this earth, that has ever existed upon this earth, and it should spread and engulf the planet, for the light that is should emanate, would be so bright that all would be attracted to it, and those who could not be would fade into nothingness, for where that much light exists, darkness cannot exist.

Peace, my friends, peace be with you. ✿
