

Caveat: These communications are informative teaching instructions for those who seek to increase their understanding of themselves and the magnitude of the future lying before us all. These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Although it has been checked for obvious errors, it has not been finally edited.

Copyright © 2012 Clyde Trepanier

December 14, 1961

Special: Peace, peace, peace.

My beloved children, let us this night consider seriously our attitudes, our feelings, from our innermost depths. There may be times, in the not too far distance, when some of you may be called upon to perform tasks that will require great sacrifices, great efforts that may be more than you will care to give.

In your religions, oftentimes it is spoken that man is required to give his all, if it so be required, and that he would turn the other cheek and go the extra mile that he would give all, if need be. But, these are but empty words coming from the mouths of men. For, if they were called upon to sacrifice in the least, they would withdraw. I wonder if Earth people were to know the sacrifices that have been made for them, the beings who have left their homes, their friends. Who have given all that man could give, in order that Earth man might be raised from the darkness in which he has dwelt so long. Men and women who have lived in what you would call a paradise have forsaken all of this and undergone great discomforts, great inconveniences, to attempt to help save a race of man who has had no thought, or put forth any effort to save himself. I wonder if Earth people would do the same.

Beloved ones, have you ever peered into your innermost being and asked yourself: "How far would I go, if I were called upon to serve my fellow being who has wasted his life, brought pain and destruction upon himself, caused great chaos in his life and in the lives of others? How far would I really go to serve this type of man?" I would like you, beloved ones, to consider this thought, ponder it somewhat in your mind and see what your answer will be. For, beloved ones, the day may come when you might be called upon to do this very thing. So, I say to you in all sincerity, it is well that you ponder these things.

All men were created with a will that is free. He has the choice to serve or not to serve, to do or not to do. Man must always choose, for creation is always a divided highway, and you can take the right or the left, as you choose.

In my humble opinion, it is well, sometimes, to measure oneself, by honestly considering these things, by truly and logically examining the road that can possibly be one that you have to travel, and then decide in your own heart which will be your road.

I shall not take more of your precious time, but as I withdraw I will again invoke upon each of you my most sincere and loving blessings.

(Ohm chant.)

Peace, Peace, Peace. ☸