

Caveat: These communications are informative teaching instructions for those who seek to increase their understanding of themselves and the magnitude of the future lying before us all. These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Although it has been checked for obvious errors, it has not been finally edited.

Copyright © 2012 Clyde Trepanier

August 26, 1969

Yaum: Good evening to you, my friends.

It is my pleasure to come among you tonight. I wish to extend gratitude to our host and hostess here tonight for inviting me into your household. I hope I shall be of some service to you. Do you have some special subject you would like me to share with you, or would you prefer just a friendly chat?

Questioner: Whichever you would like to do would be fine.

Yaum: If you have some questions that are important to you, I shall be glad to answer them to the best of my ability, and to share what I have with you, as long as they are not of a very personal nature.

Questioner: Could you tell us how your work is progressing in Communist China?

Yaum: Those of us who are working in this area feel we have made some progress. Not nearly as much as we would like to make but we are doing our best. There is great need in this area for Light workers and there are great numbers of people who are searching. However, those who are seeking spiritual growth and understanding are forced to do it in secret. We are working with those people, aiding them in spiritual growth and understanding. And we are also working in many other areas attempting to help alleviate some of the oppression, hunger and other needs. It is difficult for those of you who live as you do here to realize the need in some of the other places in your world today. This is about as much as I could say upon the subject.

Questioner: Could you tell my friend and I if we have some specific work that we are to do together?

Yaum: Together as a team you mean? Yes, I would say as I see your auras that there is certain blending there which would cause you to work well together. I see you are both interested in the same fields of endeavor, your complements seem to blend well. Yes, I would say that you will be working together for some time. I would not say that this would be indefinitely for you will find as you travel through life, that life has its phases. Friends and associates come and they go, but know this: nothing in the universe happens by chance, nothing whatsoever. Everything has a purpose and a time, a beginning and an end. I know that many of you have experienced this and have wondered why. That when you have become so closely associated with certain people and are doing a great work with them and are very happy in what you are doing, that circumstances seem to separate you. It is necessary that these things come about so that you can experience and grow. When you have completed an experience and absorbed all that you can from it, then it is time to move on to another, you see. This is growth. This is progress.

Questioner: Nothing happens by chance because our actions set the law of karma in motion, which determines our path. Is that correct?

Yaum: Yes, You have chosen your own path, because you have made it. Through your own thoughts, your own actions. Every moment that you live you are creating your future. Be it pleasant or unpleasant. This is the law of action and reaction or the law of karma. Karma can be good or in your terminology, it can be bad. You see there is really no such things as good and evil. There is only harmony and inharmony. It is like playing a musical instrument—as long as you are in harmony, it comes out beautifully. But when you start striking the wrong notes and chords, it sounds terrible, because it is not in harmony. And so it is when you become out of harmony with the law.

You call this evil. You say, “This man is an evil man.” This man is only out of harmony with the law. If he brings himself into harmony with the law, in the reasoning of your civilization, he is a good man again. We cannot judge, you see, for to judge is to be judged.

Questioner: When one is out of harmony with another person, how can he overcome his ill feeling toward that person and bring harmony to that relationship?

Yaum: This often is a matter of vibrations. You are vibrating on a different key, so to speak, and as your vibrations come together they do not harmonize. You get a repulsion instead of an attraction. These things are only overcome through love. If a person repulses you, if you feel uncomfortable in their presence, you must react in a positive way. Now this must come in a willing way. You must not force yourself to do this. For instance, “I will smile at this person, but I don’t like him.

"You have to realize that you must emanate love and understanding to this person and if you do this long enough, this will change the vibrations of this person. He will gradually pick up these vibrations and they will begin to change his. In time, sometimes, very quickly, you find a complete change. Of course, we always say that the other person did the changing, but in reality, the change took place in both of you. You each did a half turn, but few will admit this. This is also true for one who deliberately mistreats or misuses you. You can only overcome these things in love.

Questioner: Can you tell me if we are going to stay in this area for awhile and if I will continue in the same work I am in?

Yaum: Now we are getting into personal questions and I am not a fortune teller. I am sure that whatever is happening in your life today, tomorrow or the next day, is for your very highest good. Whenever it may seem to you that it is a hardship—and I sense that something of this nature is bothering you—realize that it is for your highest good instead of worrying about it.

I know this is difficult for most people to do because you live in a world of materialism. You have always been taught that this is most important. This comes to most of your people as being the first thing to consider. I assure you that it is not. The material world is the very least important. You must learn to bless each situation and try to see some good in it. Know that the father within you has something better for you. This phase of life is ending and another is beginning. Do the best you know how with what you have today. Allow no resentment to enter your heart. Bless every situation and give thanks that you have an opportunity to grow. Things will work out, and with the passage of time you will look back and say, "Why was I worried. This is the best thing that ever happened to me. I have grown. I have learned and I have much more of the father's storehouse."

Now I should like to say a few words about the material world. It is very sad that your civilization has built itself on such a materialistic foundation. If you could just visualize what your civilization would be like today, had it taken the path of love and understanding, of service to your fellow man. You would see none of the problems that you have today. There would be no lack of any kind. No sickness or suffering. Your science would be much farther advanced than it is today and you would not be in danger of destroying yourselves. Instead, your civilization has built upon the sands of materialism. The storms are coming and the sands will wash away. Your building will crumble and what will you have? A depleted civilization. Yes, it is sad, my friends, but it will not happen to everyone. There are still some who have not built upon the sand. These will be the remnants of your civilization, who will build a new civilization with wisdom, love and understanding. It takes courage to stand forth for what you know to be true. As your Master Jesus often told his followers, "The path is very narrow, it is very rocky, it is very difficult, and few reach the top."

The temptations grow too great for them, and they fall back into the materialistic pit, so be strong! Stand forth and do the best you can with that you have. Know that you have the birthright to claim your heritage. Stay upon the rock.

Questioner: Is there a special service that we may render as a group, since we must have been brought together for a purpose?

Yaum: My beloved friends, there are opportunities all about you to serve. One must, as they travel life's path, serve in every way possible. They must take advantage of every opportunity that they can. This does not eliminate any one thing, be it a smile, or a word of good cheer to one who needs it.

This includes a helping hand, a merciful deed, even to the smallest of God's creatures. However, your greatest obligation to yourself is to grow spiritually. For until you have peace and understanding, compassion and love in your own heart, it is not possible to give them to others. One must know self. This is your greatest accomplishment. Self is your greatest asset and it is also your greatest enemy. Self can destroy you if you let it become master. But when you have mastered self and know self, then you can do great things. Many search the world over to find God and peace, but the only place you will ever find them is deep within your own being. And you will never find them until you have mastered self. Now that is not to say that while you are conquering self, you cannot be of service. For if your motives are such that you wish to serve, then you will find a way to serve. How one serves is not the important thing. The important thing is that you serve each in your own way. Your hours is late and I do not wish to keep you. If I have been of any help to you I am grateful.

Questioner: Can we be of any help to you in your work in Communist China?

Yaum: Your prayers and light sent to these areas always help and will be appreciated any time. These people, as in many other parts of your planet, are in need of great help and we do appreciate your sending your light, love and prayers to these areas.

Questioner: We hope you will come and see us again soon.

Yaum: I should be happy to again be with you. Now I should like to extend my blessings to each of you. May the love, the Peace and the understanding of the great Ones be invoked upon each of you. My love, my blessings, I extend to each of you, and may each of you grow rapidly and realize your dreams quickly.

Go in Peace, my friends.

Peace be with you, Peace, Peace. Peace be with you,
Peace, Peace. ☸