Zalhem: Greetings to you, my friends, I am Zalhem.

I wish to extend to each of you my blessings and my greetings and I should like to welcome our old friends here back into our circle. It is my pleasure and my privilege to be in your presence once more. Beloved ones, each of you, each in his own way is seeking to be in His service and I know that the Father welcomes your service. Each who has volunteered in the service of the Father is going to find that day-by-day, the demands and the opportunities and the responsibilities will become greater and greater, for the times are such that there is great need for workers in the Father's plan. The workers are few and the need is great, so you will find your opportunities to serve your fellow man will grow greater and greater. Your sense of responsibility to your brother man should also increase as time passes.

There shall be many tests for those who are serving or who are attempting to serve, for to be a good servant one must develop the quality needed—a quality of humility, of recognition, of peace, of love and understanding. All of these are musts if one is to serve efficiently in this field. One must be able to place the spiritual values above all, else. You are living in a civilization that has become more and more, with the passing of time materialistic-minded, or you might say that it is a state of consciousness. So it is well to be on guard so that the influences of this consciousness do not affect you. This consciousness is the downfall of your civilization today. In their materialistic pursuits they have completely lost sight of the spiritual values. They no longer serve their God for they have developed a new god. These are things that you will find yourself faced with.

There will be many difficult decisions to be made but if you are sincere in your service, if you are dedicated, then when you find yourselves faced with these problems, these decisions, you will go within, you will turn to the Father within for the answers in sincerity and humility and you will receive these answers. We would suggest that you develop more and more the ability to go to the inner sanctums for your guidance and for all things. In this pursuit of inner knowledge you will find that there are many stages and some of the more deeper sanctums take some time to reach and take a great deal of discipline and dedication, but they are most rewarding. For it is in these deeper sanctuaries that you will find the secrets to eternal life, where you will find the records that will give you the commandments and the wisdom by which to find this eternal life. These secrets are well kept by the Cherubim and only the pure of heart enter these realms of mind, yet it is opened to all who would seek it diligently, sincerely, with purity of purpose. It is opened for all to find.

So, my beloved friends, seek these things, work at it, develop it. For these inner sanctuaries can only be reached in this way. Each of you here have started well on this path. We urge you to continue.

I understand that Brother Oxal, from the Otavana, wishes also to speak to you at this time, so I shall leave you now and after a few moments I think that he will speak to you.

I leave you, beloved friends, and as I do I extend to each of you my love and my blessings. I ask also, that the Great Masters of the universe will invoke blessings upon you. Our love and our efforts will be put forth in every way that we can in the days ahead to help you in every way to fulfill your work and to accomplish that for which you have set out to do.

Peace be with you, my friends, peace, peace.

Oxal: Greetings in the Light, my friends, I am Oxal.

First I should like to greet our old friends here from the area of Detroit. It has been sometime since we have had the opportunity to speak to you. We should like to commend you on the work you have been doing and we should like to warn you that you are going to have much more work if you are going to fulfill the requirements that shall be thrust upon you.

All workers in the light are going to be called upon more and more as time passes, for now is the time of action, the time to march on. The time is short and much is to be done. We, as many others, shall aid you in every possible way. It is our desire that as many as possible shall be reached and all who seek for help shall find it. I warn you, the workers are few the tasks will be many. So put on your armor and prepare for action and your armor shall be His light for when this is developed to an advanced state you will find it the only protection that you can have complete faith in.

We feel, at this time, that all Light workers should be given some information as to what to expect in the future and what they shall have to face. You can expect your weather patterns to continually worsen. You will find increasing storms such as tornadoes, hurricanes and the like. You will find increasing numbers of earth tremors becoming greater and greater in intensity. This is due to your atomic testing, the polluting of your air and of your planet in general. All of these things are affecting the magnetic field around your planet and is causing disruptions in nature.

There is much that could be done to ease the situation your people are facing but it looks doubtful that it will be done. Much of the chaos that is growing in your nation could be lessened if your President and your Congress through emergency measures would pass certain acts to alleviate the causes of these things. But due to the opposition of the great military management and labor complex that has developed, it is doubtful that these things will happen. For these factions are opposing them and will continue to oppose any movement that will affect their status quo. So by and large you can look for the conditions in your cities to worsen as time passes for the sums of money that it would take to eliminate the slums of your cities and to bring the relief that would be necessary to avoid those things, would cost such vast amounts that it would be practically impossible.

You have had in the past the opportunity, through your histories to study and observe through the writings of others, the fall of great nations, of great monarchs. As we observe from our vantage point, you are and will continue to be an eyewitness to the collapse of a democracy. Your nation today is moving rapidly towards government control. Your government is taking more and more control of its people and the way points towards complete control.

These are some of the things that you shall be faced with but this does not necessarily mean that you must become a part of it. It is true that one becomes affected by the race consciousness, by the things that are brought upon a nation or a civilization due to the thoughts and the acts of the people as a whole. But you as an individual, through your own thoughts and deeds can attract to you that which will separate you from this race reaction. For each builds his own future, his own surroundings by his own thoughts and deeds, and although you are a part of something, you can be separated from it. This would be hard for most of your people to accept or understand but I believe those of you here know and realize what I am saying. But you must be ever on guard that you are not drawn into this way of the masses, by being ever aware of what you think, what you do and what you say. But most of all of what you think because the thought comes before the word. The word only adds power to the thought. So be ever mindful, of your thoughts and your attitudes.

Judgment is not ours. Condemnation, prejudices, all of these things must be guarded against. It is very easy when you are living in an environment such as you are to allow small prejudices, small judgments to creep into your thinking because of the influence about you. So one must be ever mindful of these things. In other words, let every cause that we create be a cause that will bring a pleasant, a positive, a good effect. And as we do this we draw to us those who are of like mind, those whom we can work and associate with without being affected adversely.

We know that each of you are going to do your part, are going to put forth the effort that is necessary to fulfill that which you have chosen to fulfill. And in your mission we wish you Godspeed and wish to remind you that we and many others from other realms are interested in seeing you accomplish the things that you wish to accomplish. We shall in all ways possible help you. The road will not be easy but no great accomplishments are made without effort.

So be of good cheer, for nothing is gained without what may seem to be unpleasant or without facing unpleasant experiences. But without these things we would not grow, so without challenges man would not grow, he would become stagnant. So face each challenge with new courage, knowing that it is a step forward on your path to the Kingdom.

I leave you, my friends, by extending to you the love, the light and the understanding of my people. I am Oxal. ☸
