Teacher: Greetings to thee, my friends, I am Anthon.

I have come to you at this time to speak for another and to speak to the daughter as you requested. Now, my child, we know that your problems are great. We know that you are in great need of physical healing so we shall endeavor to point out some of the things that are necessary for you to do.

You have, in the first place, allowed your faith to wane and this, beloved one, is not conducive to receiving what you seek. I must ask you do you believe that your great God who is all-powerful, all-wise and all-loving, do you believe that He can heal you? Think upon this, beloved, make some decisions as to what you want. Do you really and truly want God to heal you? Then you must know that He can and will if you ask Him. Ask in the name of Jesus the Christ, ask that He might intervene for you with the Father and then dedicate yourself to Him.

Ask yourself why you wish to be healed. Is it for your own personal relief or is it so that you might become a better person, that you might better serve your God? Dedicate yourself wholly and fully to His service. Ask to become a greater servant in the Light of His love. If you are to become whole and happy again, are you willing to dedicate your life to Him? Think upon these things, my daughter. What are your motives? Make your decisions and then follow it up with a complete knowing, doubting not for one second nor for one split second, that your requests will be granted. For did not your great Master promise that whatsoever you would ask in His name, believing and knowing and asking through Christ that He would answer? Do you believe this, my daughter, or have you doubts in your mind?

Faith without action is dead. So with this faith and this knowing, act. Act by declaring your faith before all men. Act by following your guidance. Let God talk to you and guide you and tell you what to do. Now God speaks to man in many ways. He may speak to you through that still small voice within or He may speak to you through someone in the higher realms. Or He may speak to you even through another person on the physical plane. These words can be a direction, directing you to do certain things or perhaps to contact certain individuals or an individual. It could be many things but if you are open and listening He will speak I you and direct you into the path, into the place that is right for you.

Do not try to tell God how to bring your good to you for God works in many ways, through many channels, through many people His miracles to perform. God has many helpers on all levels of life and He uses them as He sees fit. He knows best what is best for you, He knows best how and when to bring about your healing.

So, beloved one, let go and let God do the miracles. When you feel that you are being guided by Him to do something, do not let intellectual reasoning or those who reason in the intellect, deter you from your action, for He is all-wise and knows always what is best.

In praying and asking for your healing, ask not only for the physical but also that the soul may be healed along with the physical and that the Christ may take over your life that your heart might be filled with the Christ Light that you might go forth and do His works.

We realize that the hour looks dark to you but come out of that darkness into His light, let it fill you to overflowing. Declare it and let it shine forth in praise and thanksgiving to Him who is the All—in—All.

Our thoughts and our prayers are with you always. Our Light surrounds you and our love enfolds you. You are, because He is. He dwells in you as He does in all of us and He is as powerful in you as in anyone else, therefore do not believe, but know these things.

Peace be with you, beloved daughter,

Peace, peace, peace. ✿
