

Caveat: These communications are informative teaching instructions for those who seek to increase their understanding of themselves and the magnitude of the future lying before us all. These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Although it has been checked for obvious errors, it has not been finally edited.

Copyright © 2012 Clyde Trepanier

November 4, 1972

Yaum: Good evening to you my friends. It is my great pleasure to come among you tonight, to once more be in your presence.

I realize that there are many questions on your mind concerning the subject which you have discussed here tonight. I was not here at the time, but I was informed that you were discussing medium ship and the astral realms, so, if you have some questions concerning this I will be glad to share my understanding with you. I may not be able to answer all of your questions and give you a full understanding of these things as they are very complex.

Questioner: If one goes to a medium with a prayerful attitude, will this attract a helpful entity or does the mediums own state of consciousness determine the spiritual level of the entity that he contacts?

Yaum: There are many different kinds of mediums, you understand. There are some who work entirely with the astral realms and depend upon the astral contacts that they are able to make to furnish them information, correct or incorrect, as it may be. This will depend a lot on the consciousness of the astral entity with whom they are working. Most mediums who work with astral realms attract according to their consciousness and are limited to a certain level of consciousness that they can work with.

The best medium is one who has the ability to make a soul to soul contact with the person with whom he is working, such as your well known medium, Mr. Cayce. This was what he was actually doing. In most cases he was working on various levels, but he himself was a highly developed soul, although this did not show in his physical expression. In his unconscious state, which was really his conscious state, he was able to make a soul to soul contact with the entity with whom he was trying to work, diagnose or read. He also was also able to rise in consciousness to higher planes where he could actually have access to the Akashic records, although you are your own Akashic records, you understand.

So through a soul to soul contact one is able to read that person and tell exactly what he or she may need or what has been their experience in the past which may have effect upon the present, et cetera. It depends almost entirely on the ability of the medium himself and you have in your civilization all levels from fakery on up. A soul to soul contact can be made by a medium with great spiritual development, but it may not show in the physical form as some of your greatest mediums are the most humble, common and ordinary people. In their, what you would call their conscious state, they are very limited in their knowledge. They are merely going from one state of consciousness to another state of consciousness and consciousness is a very deep subject.

Questioner: Are the space appearing often to some people in simulated craft?

Yaum: The true space people who are coming here on your behalf are operating strictly in their own spacecraft and have no need to use anything else. They are too busy carrying out their missions to be taking time to make demonstrations of the kind you are referring to. I would have to say, for one thing that those who make these claims, are imagining a lot of things for everything that comes near them, they imagine is a spacecraft. They get carried away. They cannot, as you say, keep their feet on the ground and they turn everything into something exciting and thrilling. Also quite often these people get so involved and try so hard to make contacts that they throw themselves wide open and in doing so they get contacts, but what kind of contacts they get is another thing. Often entities who like to express and have fun do not particularly mean to harm, will play with these people and often get enough control over them to make thought projections to them which are real to them, making them see things which are nothing more than a thought projection. There are no doubt, some true sighting, as there are many spaceships in your atmosphere. Thought projections can be seen by several people at the same time and can become very real as many of you have experienced, such as seeing people who are not there in the physical, but were projecting a thought to them at that time, which became real. So one must be cautious, discerning, and keep a level head.

You are all aware that not all of the spacecraft in your atmosphere are interested in your good, or in helping you, or doing anything for you. They are curious about you, and they have made many experiments trying to find out more about your civilization. They have even cross breed with some of your people who have been carried away physically by them. Those who do this are not of a high spiritual nature. You are perhaps aware of some people who have completely disappeared. Their own Karmic pattern or soul development was such that this could happen to them.

Questioner: Someone has stated that the skeleton of the horse found in Colorado was caused by "good" space brothers. Also it was stated that one should not wear nylon, et cetera, which supposedly lowers the vibration, and would cause the beam from the spacecraft to be harmful when the space brothers were experimenting in using the beam to take people into their craft. Please comment on this.

Yaum: I am not familiar with that incident, perhaps later on I will be given some facts concerning it. There are many sources of information coming through various individuals who call themselves mediums, that are not accurate, that are falsified.

The forces of darkness are very busy upon your planet, and one must be continually aware of these things and protect themselves against them. There are guidelines by which you can discern the truth, such as the things that build your ego, or information that makes you a great person. One should be aware of these things and examine them very closely. Anything that does not ring true to your Higher Self, be very cautious about and examine carefully.

I am not saying that anything that does not fit in with your thinking is wrong, but I am saying that it should make some kind of reason, some kind of good common sense. Mainly you must use your own intuition to sense these things, and always be aware of anything that builds ego or makes great promises to you.

Questioner: Why does one sometimes feel that their good intuition or Higher Self is guiding them into certain experiences?

Yaum: Sometimes people have to have certain experiences to learn. Their own High Self may guide them through these in order to help them learn. Let us hope that they always learn by this, but sometimes they fail to recognize their lesson, and then it will happen again. Perhaps they may have some very undesirable experiences before they do recognize the lesson. Some learn sooner than others and are able to pull themselves out. Others, as all of you well know, get into some real deep trouble, such as complete possession and mental instability. These things can happen, so one must always try to keep balance. Balance is important throughout eternity. Not too far to the right nor to the left, but keep that balance. In the physical you need balance between the spiritual and physical. If you go to far either way you are in trouble.

You must keep balance. One can only grow according to his own capabilities and if he tries to go beyond these capabilities, he gets into trouble. Many teacher will have great Karma to pay for wrong teachings and for leading people into things that they are not ready for, taking them into college before they have gone into high school. It does not work, you see.

I have been given some information now about the area that you mentioned where the horse incident occurred. There has been a great deal of negative activity there. I do not like to use the word negative, but those who have been active there are experimenting and doing things that we do not consider the proper and right thing to do. In that area in Colorado where this occurred, there has been quite a bit of activity that has not been of the best.

Questioner: I wonder if you have any suggestions on how we should cope with this situation in which we seem to be finding ourselves? Many of our friends are having experiences that we can't go along with, and we are becoming the "ogres" so to speak. How would you suggest that we handle this?

Yaum: There is not too much that you can do, except to go by your own guidance. If you are asked about certain situations you can only give your understanding and share that with them. If this does not please them, then that is all that you can do. Perhaps many of these people, as I have said, need to experience these things in order to be awakened to the necessity to be cautious. Often they have to learn the hard way, in fact, in most cases you will find this to be true. People do not like to be told. They like to go on their own and do whatever they want to do, and if they get into trouble, that is their business, you see. If they come seeking and asking, you can only give your own understanding and your experience.

Questioner: Is there something within us that is keeping us from meeting the kind of people who would like to combine forces with us, so to speak, and serve with us in the light?

Yaum: Everyone goes through phases of life, phases of activity, sometime great activity, sometimes medium, and sometimes low activity. Everyone lives on a slightly different level of consciousness. Their experiences are somewhat different. Usually what everyone is experiencing at any given time is, perhaps, what they should be experiencing at that time. Sometimes we grow rather impatient. We want things to happen and they do not. But whatever it is that you are experiencing, perhaps it is necessary. At times in our lives we need observation be with ourselves more, so that each can examine and contemplate ones self, and commune in the solitude of oneself.

There are many different area of interest, and perhaps you will find as you go along and times change that more new people will come into your lives that will be able to be of help to you and you of help to them. You see, it is necessary to be of help to each other. We learn from each other, and it is well and good to share with each other, under proper circumstances. You do not have with people who do not want to share with you. You would only waste your time and theirs. This does not help anyone. Those who have interests can grow by sharing their interests and knowledge. Are there any other questions?

Questioner: I recently read that scientists claim to have found what resembles a black hole in space. Also they say that they have discovered a galaxy that is expanding faster than the speed of light. Can you give us any information on these discoveries?

Yaum: Not too much, I'm afraid. Your scientists are going to discover a lot of new things about space. They have not discovered all of the planets in your solar system yet. I am not any great authority on these things because that has not been my field.

As far as a "hole" in space is concerned, the appearance of a black area out there does not necessarily make it a hole. I think what it really is, is an area that is not reflecting any light, therefore making it look like a black hole.

There is a condition there with which I am not familiar enough to explain it to you. It either absorbs the light, or it bends the light around it. I know there are conditions in space that will bend light, and your space people have learned how to do this themselves. I am sure that they have learned this by studying nature, and space is a part of nature. They have scientifically found out how this happens, and have reproduced this same condition using instruments to bend light. They are able to bend light around their spaceship making it invisible.

In other words you are looking around it rather than through it. They can also become invisible themselves, using an instrument that they place upon their bodies. When they turn it on, it causes the light rays to bend around them, so that you cannot see them. But you could lay your hand on them and feel them, because they are still there.

Questioner: I would like to ask another question regarding séances. What is your opinion of the authenticity of mediums who manifest spirits for everyone present?

Yaum: In most cases I would say that this is fakery. It is possible for a spirit entity to manifest an ectoplasm drawn from the people in the group. But, to draw enough ectoplasm to have one after another come forth, would deplete everyone in the room. A good conscientious medium would not do this period. Also, I would like to say that there is nothing to be gained by this. It is doing injustice to those in the spirit realm and really should not be done.

Questioner: The spirit that comes through then clothes himself in the energy that he draws from the people in the room. Is that correct?

Yaum: Yes. And the medium also has the ability to draw and concentrate this ectoplasm.

Questioner: Is there actually a spirit there, or is it just a manifestation that the medium is creating?

Yaum: It could be either one.

Questioner: Then there would not likely be more than one or two at a séance?

Yaum: That is right. Now this is nothing more than trying to demonstrate phenomena, and people who seek these things are phenomena seekers in most cases, and they are not growing spiritually from this. It is not being fair to their loved ones on the other side to keep trying to bring them back. This can be done, but it should not be done. They should be left to go on their own. If they come for a purpose, to help someone, that is different. But it is not necessary for them to do this very often, especially for one who has their Etheric teacher in the higher realms who looks after them. Everyone has someone assigned to them, but you will never see one of these at a séance.

Questioner: They will not appear at a séance?

Yaum: That is right. They will not. You will never see your Etheric teacher in a séance. This does not attract them, it does not interest them. And as a rule you will find that if one of your spiritual mediums who is clairvoyant, and many of them are, see ones of these Etheric teachers, they are usually quite amazed at them. They do not look like the Astral shells they are used to looking at. The Astral realm is quite a complex thing and we would not have time to go into that tonight. But man himself is complex, and they are not really contacting the whole person, you see. There are separations that take place after leaving the physical and many other conditions which enter into the situation which, as I said, would be too long a subject to get into right now.

Questioner: Would you care to take a few moments and tell us what you are doing now?

Yaum: Well, I am still doing the same things that I have been. As I have explained before, the group with which I work is mostly concerned with world affairs, and are trying to work with world leaders, of course, unbeknownst to them. We are trying to hold certain things at bay. The only reason that your planet has not been blown up already is because of what certain individuals have been able to do. I don't mean to claim credit for that, for our group. There are many other entities at various levels that have worked at this, including the space people. It has been somewhat of a problem to keep the flow of events from overflowing, you might say.

Questioner: Before you go, could you tell us if you have been present at the Vietnam peace talks?

Yaum: I have not personally, but some of our group have been in all of these things.

Questioner: Are we being given the true picture of what is transpiring there?

Yaum: You seldom get the true picture of anything that goes on. You are fed mostly propaganda. They tell you what they want you to know, and feed you information to influence you in the ways that they want you influenced. This is felt to be only true in other nations, but your in no exception. There will be an agreement signed there, and your country will withdraw, but there will be many complications.

Now my friends it is time for me to withdraw. I wish to thank for excepting me into your household, and for excepting me into your presence as a group. If I have been of any help to you I am grateful. Never feel that you have to accept what I say.

I extend to each of you, my very dearest love and blessings, and ask that all of the great ones pour out their love and blessing upon each of you here and upon all those for whom you pray, and for whom you have love and concern.

Peace be with you my friends. Peace, Peace. ♣