Teacher: Bless you, my children, bless you and may the blessings of the Great Ones be invoked upon you now.

My beloved ones, you are living in times when you are exposed to both the positive and the negative forces. Great influences are being brought upon you which tries you at times and shakes you to the depth of your being. You find yourselves faced with great decisions, decisions that sometimes seem almost impossible to make. Yet these the very things that are testing your strength, that are testing your faith. These are the things that are strengthening you for the time ahead, that are giving you the opportunity to prove yourself how much strength you have, how much love you have. In the days to come, as you look back, you will see how these trials have given you greater strength, greater wisdom.

Many are coming into your civilization today who are going to have great parts to play in the establishing of your New Age. Some of these souls have not incarnated for many centuries. They have been waiting for the opportunity, for the opportune time to fulfill their mission. As time passes those of you on planet Earth who have eyes to see, ears to hear, will recognize these souls for what they are. For each of these will stand out in your civilization with such Light that you cannot help but see them. So, my friends, be aware as you travel on for many times you may entertain angels unaware.

There is much concern by many of your people as to how they will face these coming times, as to what their fate will be in these times. But I say to thee, beloved ones, this need not be a great concern for those who walk in the Light. For though you walk in the valley of death you need fear no evil, for He shall be with you, your hand will be in His and you cannot fall. The physical vehicle in which you move and have your being at this time is of little importance. It can be laid aside and taken on again as you do your coat. This is not you for you are greater than this. This has only been the vehicle to use here for the experiences that you must have to learn. It has been a useful vehicle to gain certain lessons other than that it has little value.

So you see, my beloved friends, this is not life, this is not what you are looking for. Rather you are looking for eternal life of which you cannot be deprived by those who would harm you. To sacrifice this vehicle in His service is to gain a greater life. So you see, if you walk in the Light, if you follow Him, if you walk with Him, no harm shall come to you, to the real you, for the real you will be unharmed if you walk in His path.

my beloved ones, establish your faith in Him, place your hand in His, walk in His steps and these things which seem to be of great magnitude to you now will fade into nothingness for you will know, you will realize that they will not come nigh unto you. So as you go forth in your daily experiences rejoice in Him, give praise and give thanks that you are allowed to walk with Him, to talk with Him. Give thanks for the blessing that are yours and use your God-given talents, your mind and your voice to glorify Him that you might day-by-day become more like Him.

May the peace, the love and the understanding of all the Great Ones be invoked upon all of you.

Peace be with you, peace, peace. ☸
